Truckload of men rushed to Cornwall, Ont., from Montreal by rival union is shown rolling away with battered cargo after battle with about 50 Canadian Seamen's Union strikers.

Drive Warring Seamen Out, Mayor Of Cornwall Urges

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—Strong R.C.M.P. detachments or army troops to drive warring seamen from Cornwall likely were asked of the government when Mayor Lloyd Gallinger and a city council delegation met with cabinet ministers today.

Mayor Gallinger said Tuesday night Transport Minister Chevrier and Labor Minister Mitchell would hear requests to "put both the Canadian Seamen's Union and the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union out of Cornwall."

(At Ottawa today Mr. Gallinger declined to say after the meeting whether the Cornwall group had asked the government for any specific action.)

The mayor asserted the flare-ups between the rival unions has had a frightening effect on many Cornwall residents. There had been complaints that persons were afraid to walk in some sections of the city, trade was beginning to drop and tourists were being frightened away.

TOO BIG FOR US

He would ask the federal government to act in the removal of the C.S.U. encampment from a city park and to prevent further truckloads of C.L.S.U. members from being brought into the district.

"The time has come," he said, "to clear out both sides of this conflict. We have had enough. The government must take decisive action. It's too big for us."

In other quarters, Arthur Marshall, president of the Cornwall

Trades and Labor Council, said the council would meet to discuss withdrawal of support from the C.S.U.

The Cornwall Retail Association also prepared for a meeting. An official said: "This strike is ruining business. People are afraid to go out on the street at night."

GUNS AND TEAR GAS

Meanwhile, Capt. Norman Reoch, operating manager of Canada Steamship Lines Ltd., said Tuesday night in an interview that shotguns, revolvers, tear gas and mounted steam hose would be used to defend company vessels from C.S.U. boarding parties.

The arrest Tuesday of William Thompson, police said, made the fourth C.S.U. man held on charges of kidnapping. A fifth and sixth C.S.U. man are being held on charges of assault arising from the week-end outbreak of violence along the waterfront.

OTTAWA WATCHING

OTTAWA (CP)—Arming of ships involved in the Great Lakes shipping strike would lead to civil war, Charlie Gillis (CCF, Cape Breton South) said today in the Commons.

He referred to published reports on the possible arming and asked Justice Minister Hestey what the government intended to do to prevent such action.

Mr. Hestey said the government was considering the matter and that questions of Dominion-Provincial jurisdiction were involved.

Warning Given Sumas Area Dikes Still In Danger Of Collapsing

VANCOUVER (CP)—Previous warning by U.S. diking inspectors that the Sumas dikes "could break at any moment," was reiterated here by Gilbert C. More, the man who helped build them more than 20 years ago.

Flown at army request Saturday from Needles, B.C., 100 miles south of Revelstoke, Mr. More had been "optimistic" about the Vedder dikes holding.

Tuesday night he joined with the earlier warning and said: "It is most dangerous for farmers who have already left the area to return."

Mr. More, a former diking engineer, supervised the final stages of the Sumas diking project between 1919 and 1926. Now he is a power commission engineer at Needles.

18,000 INOCULATIONS

Meanwhile, danger of disease threatened evacuees of the inundated Fraser Valley today as they waited the time when they could return to their homes.

In connection with the possibility of disease, the Provincial health department has warned that before houses can be re-occupied, thorough inspections must be made. Inoculations against typhoid fever are being carried out with an estimated 18,000 persons treated thus far.

Two Tiger Moth planes and a helicopter have carried out a fight against mosquitoes, spraying stagnant water in the Fraser Valley with powerful insecticides.

Tuesday saw the resumption of rail traffic between Vancouver and the east, the first since May 28. A 55-car freight train carried first class merchandise for the city.

The R.C.A.F. announced that units will continue to drop supplies to interior and Fraser Valley points and that regular aerial reconnaissance patrols and photographic survey flights will be maintained.

Big Plane Missing

AJACCIO, Corsica (AP)—Two Flying Fortresses, believed to be part of a three-plane flight reported missing on a trip from the Azores to Palestine with crews of Jews landed here today for refueling and took off again.

French officials at Ajaccio could not say definitely whether the planes were the ones reported missing.

SANTA MARIA, Azores (AP)—A search plane reported today that it had sighted wreckage in an area in which three B-17 type planes were reported missing after taking off from here yesterday. The search plane said there was no sign of life. Warships headed for the scene.

20,000 To Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The United Steelworkers (C.I.O.) today called a strike of some 20,000 workers in nine Aluminum Co. of America plants for midnight Sunday.

Russia Opposes 6-Nation Pact For West Germany

LONDON (AP)—A Russian embassy spokesman said today Russia has informed Britain she cannot accept the six-power London agreement to set up a separate west German government.

The spokesman said Russian Ambassador Georgi Zarubin, former envoy to Canada, told Sir William Strang, chairman of the six-power conference, June 7 that Russia regards the agreement as a violation of the Potsdam pact.

The text of the accord was sent to the Russians before it was released for publication June 7.

Even during the negotiations which produced the agreement, the Moscow radio and Russian newspapers indicated it would not be acceptable to the Russian government so the rejection today was not altogether unexpected.

DEBATED IN PARIS

It was, however, the first official announcement that Russia will not accept the plan, which applies only to the British, U.S. and French occupation zones. All the six powers except France have approved the plan. The French Assembly now is debating it. The other powers involved were Britain, the United States, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

The Russian spokesman declined to give details of what Zarubin told Sir William Strang, and the Foreign Office declined comment.

Oil Flow Increases

CALGARY (CP)—Uncontrolled flow of oil from Atlantic No. 3 well in the Leduc oil field has increased by more than 4,000 barrels a day, I. N. McKinnon, chairman of the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board, said today. The cause of the increased flow, now about 11,000 barrels of crude a day, is not known although it is believed it may be caused by attempts to "kill" No. 3 by forcing water into the field from a nearby well.

Huge Strike Wave Spreads Over France And Belgium

Arabs Reject Plan For Jerusalem To Be Called Open City

CAIRO (AP)—The Arabs today rejected a proposal of the United Nations' mediator to declare Jerusalem an open city.

Fawzi Mulki Pasha, foreign minister of Trans-Jordan, told newspaper men that the Arab League had replied to Count Folke Bernadotte that if Jerusalem were declared an open city, Arab troops would be asked to evacuate positions they conquered there last month. He said this would be in contradiction of the cease-fire terms.

An Arab League source also reported the league's political committee had rejected an invitation to sit at a conference table with the Jews in negotiations for a permanent Palestine peace.

The Arabs held the old city of Jerusalem, a mile-square block in the heart of the shrine city, when the four-week truce became effective last Friday. The Jews held most of the bigger modern city. The Arabs have accused the Jews in the past of ruling out the possibility of an open city by violating the previous Jerusalem truce.

The Arabs now say the city's shrines, holy to three great religions, are safe under Arab protection and that the Arabs are granting free access to them.

Many of the holiest shrines are within the old city walls.

Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary-general of the Arab League, repeated the Arab position that the Arab states will listen to no proposal for peace which is based on a Jewish state or partition. Bernadotte talked with Azzam Pasha and with the premiers of Lebanon and Trans-Jordan.

One informant said Bernadotte gave the Arab committee an oral proposal Tuesday night, a few hours after the mediator had arrived from his Rhodes Island peace headquarters.

The measure would direct the government to arrange for pushing a Canadian line to the Alaskan border, then plan a link with the present Alaskan system at Fairbanks.

The delegates will meet at the Empress Hotel. At noon members will lunch at the hotel and at night a complimentary banquet will be held to which a representative group of Victorians have been invited.

The Canadian Historical Association will hold joint sessions with the Royal Society and the Canadian Political Science Association at the Empress Hotel on Thursday at 2:30 and 8:15 p.m.

Prof. F. H. Soward, president of the Canadian Historical Association, and Dr. V. W. Bladen, University of Toronto, will address the meetings.

At Thursday's sessions, many of the arts and sciences will also be discussed in a series of papers prepared for the conference by the Fellows of the Society. The society since Monday has been holding its meeting in Vancouver, where new fellows were introduced to the organization and awards made to prominent scientists and scholars.

The body was recovered Tuesday from the waters of Cayoosh Creek, 120 air miles north of Vancouver.

Provincial police believe he stepped into deep water in a break in the road when the Cayoosh was in flood.

Israelis examine the bodies of Iraqis who died defending the desert village of Kakoun, Israel. The feet of the corpses were found to have been bound. Jews say they were tied by enemy officers to prevent desertion under fire. Another hypothesis is that the Arabs tied ropes to facilitate dragging the dead bodies. Persons on the downtown area Tuesday afternoon and evening were the target of a "prank" by four older boys riding about the streets in a car. They were using pedestrians as targets for a fire extinguisher filled with water.

A number of people were squirted from the extinguisher. City police were called. Constable Donald Buie caught the boys, took the extinguisher away and warned them.

The fire-fighting equipment is being investigated to learn whether it was the extinguisher stolen from the naval shore patrol wagon recently.

Apparently the boys had an outfit gadget hidden away in the car to carry on with their "sport" for an hour later police were informed of the same thing going on from a car with the same license number.

More severe action against the boys will be taken by police.

Tomorrow leading Canadian scientists and scholars will attend the annual business meeting of the Royal Society of Canada. The society, formed in 1881 to promote literature and sciences in the Dominion, has been responsible for many changes in the Canadian way of life, including the institution of scientific research stations.

The delegates will meet at the Empress Hotel. At noon members will lunch at the hotel and at night a complimentary banquet will be held to which a representative group of Victorians have been invited.

Provincial police believe he stepped into deep water in a break in the road when the Cayoosh was in flood.

Police, Workers Clash At Rubber Plant; 150 Hurt

CLERMONT-FERRAND, France (CP)—A spreading strike wave, reminiscent of last winter's cold civil war, crept over south-central and northeastern France today, sparked by a general work stoppage in this French tire capital.

A general strike also spread throughout Belgium, while London's shipping industry was crippled by a growing dock walkout.

At least 150 persons were injured here when police forcibly ejected strikers who had occupied the Berougan rubber factory. The rubber factory strike, called by the Communist-dominated Confederation Generale du Travail, touched off the general stoppage, and by noon the movement was spreading rapidly to other communities. The United States embassy said this was a "red belt."

Police moved in on the rubber plant Tuesday night. An eyewitness said the company of state police and mounted Republican Guards were met by a barrage of missiles. Strikers used clubs made from gum rubber in a hand-to-hand conflict.

Police used tear gas. The strikers responded with a barrage of tear gas capsules of their own which forced the officers to retreat. Reinforcements were called, rushed here by trucks from neighboring towns. The police renewed the assault this morning and forced the strikers out.

At least 70 police were hurt in the fighting, 46 of them severely enough to require hospital treatment. About 80 strikers were injured, many severely. Many of the injured, both strikers and policemen, suffered acid burns on their faces, doctors said.

By noon, several thousand miners had quit their jobs at Brassac, St. Etienne and other communities in sympathy strikes. Tobacco plant workers quit at Riom. In northeastern France, several thousand metal workers of Belfort voted to strike.

Other walkouts followed as far away as Marseille, another Communist hot-bed, where 1,200 metal workers voted to strike in sympathy. Several factories in Marseille shut down.

In Brussels, Belgium, 250,000 steel and metal workers struck for pay increases of 5 per cent. Antwerp's Ford, General Motors and Chrysler assembly lines and the Bell Telephone factory were idle.

In London, another 3,000 dockworkers quit work in a wildcat stoppage which has halted about 100 ships at the London wharves. About 12,000 of the port's 25,000 dockers are now idle.

DESCRIBED AS GRAVE

Premier Schuman called the cabinet into session and some observers described the situation as grave.

The Paris office of the C.G.T. issued a statement denouncing Schuman's middle-of-the-road government.

The Confederation said the current strikers vindicated the 3,000,000 workers who quit their jobs last November and December in demands for "better living conditions."

Government Action Urged To Prevent Rail Walkout

MONTREAL (CP)—Spokesmen for 28,000 railwaymen today looked to Ottawa for government intervention in their wage dispute with the railways.

Officials of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers (C.B.E.T.) announced Tuesday they had wired Labor Minister Mitchell advising him strike action could only be avoided by government intervention.

The announcement was made shortly after Mr. Justice J. C. A. Cameron of the Exchequer Court of Canada had disclosed a mediation board attempting to settle the dispute had "terminated its proceedings without reaching an agreement."

Meanwhile, hearings of similar demands by 18 international brotherhoods, representing 112,000 other Canadian railway workers, will be resumed in Montreal June 30.

The union message, signed by six members of the union negotiating committee, said "strike action by our members can only be avoided by the government taking whatever action is necessary to make acceptance of our compromise offer to the board possible."

Details of the compromise were not disclosed.

In Ottawa, Labor Minister Mitchell declined comment on the announcement, deciding to wait to hear the facts firsthand from Mr. Justice Cameron today in Ottawa.

Meanwhile, hearings of similar demands by 18 international brotherhoods, representing 112,000 other Canadian railway workers, will be resumed in Montreal June 30.

Postmaster J. B. Sinclair received word today that mail service to eastern Canada and points served through the eastern seaboard, which was recently suspended on account of Fraser Valley floods has been resumed.

Any backlogs of mail are being rushed through and the post office is once again accepting parcel and paper mails for eastern points. "It is expected," said Mr. Sinclair, "that we will be up to date within a very few days." All necessary measures are being taken to ensure swift handling of the mails on their arrival in Victoria and they will be delivered without delay.

Behind The Iron Curtain — Polish Farmers In Dire Straits

Too many women are forced to work in fields, neglecting their families.

Farm family's home in a devastated region, built of salvaged wood and grass thatch.

Dairy woman pours milk, from unsanitary cans, into bottle brought by girl buyer, right.

Through F.A.O. missions, western nations still have contact with Communist-dominated peoples behind the Iron Curtain. An F.A.O. (Food and Agriculture Organization of the U.N.) mission is a group of experts, usually from several countries, which goes to a country to study its food, agriculture, forestry and fisheries problems. It goes only at the request of the country's government. These pictures are from the report, just released, of the F.A.O. mission to Poland. Its 10 experts spent two months in Poland last summer. They traveled some 45,000 miles within the country. They reported: Polish agriculture, food supply and forestry are in a state of emergency. Too many people are tied to farms. Thousands of women, who should be tending their families, serve as field hands. A great dearth of farm machinery. Lack of fertilizer reduces vital crops. Housing is critically inadequate. Farmers are overtaxed, underpaid. Cattle are tubercular and milk distribution unsanitary.

Wrecked house provides this woman's only stove.

Lumber production for housing must be doubled, says F.A.O. Some mills have so little space they can't operate to capacity.

3 British Planters Killed By Gunmen

SINGAPORE (AP)—Malayan dispatches said Chinese gunmen killed three British planters today in a renewal of Communist terrorism in the Malay peninsula.

The dispatches said the bandits—allegedly Communist-inspired—attacked rubber estates in the Sungai Siput area 20 miles from Ipoh, killed the three planters and took their valuables. The planters were identified as J. E. Walker, J. M. Allison and C. H. Christian.

The government ordered immediate evacuation of all European women and children from Sungai Siput and was expected this afternoon to grant police special emergency powers. A dispatch from Kuala Lumpur said Gurkha troops were dispatched today to the shooting scene to aid in the search for the killers. Emergency powers are expected to include a dark-to-dawn curfew.

5 Or 7 Commissioners To Revise Federal Laws

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Hsley said Tuesday the Commons "that either a five or a seven-man commission will be established to undertake revision of Canada's statutes and the Criminal Code. The last revision was in 1927."

The minister said the original bill establishing the commission provided for five commissioners. He now is considering whether the number should be increased to seven so that one section of the commission may devote itself entirely to the Criminal Code.

He did not yet know who would be appointed to the commission.

Mother Expecting 24th Child Builds Own Home, Digs Well

ATLANTA (AP)—A 38-year-old expectant mother—for the 24th time—appeared at the city's hospital here seeking relief from a backache, acquired while digging a well and building a house.

Mrs. Maud Ethel Pope, whose eldest living child was born when she was 13—she had two who died before then—said the housing problem had been with her nearly all her life.

"Everytime I have another baby," she said, "the folks we rent from make us move. So I just got tired of the whole thing and decided to buy a lot and build a house."

"Bill—he's my husband—has all he can do working to support us," Mrs. Pope continued, "so I had to do all the work."

Mrs. Pope began working on the house and well in August of last year. She dug the well some 25 feet deep using just a pick and shovel.

"It was mighty hard on my neck and back," she commented. The Papes have 17 boys and four girls.

Bodies Of Couple Found In Oshawa

OSHAWA, Ont. (CP)—Bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Bradley were found in their home Tuesday, the woman with her head beaten in. The husband's body was found in the garage and police said he had been asphyxiated by carbon monoxide gas.

Inspector W. H. Clark of the criminal investigation branch of the Ontario police, took charge of the investigation.

The bodies were found by a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Reed, who with her husband lives on the third floor of the home. Bradley was a prominent Oshawa real estate agent.

Recommend Extension

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate commerce committee Tuesday recommended extension until June 30, 1949, of permission for Canadian vessels to transport goods between Hyder, Alaska, and the United States.

The committee was told Canadian vessels provide the only service available for the Roverside mine on the extreme tip of Alaska at the British Columbia boundary.

First Consideration For Flood Districts To Secure Nails

CALGARY (CP)—British Columbia should receive first consideration in allocation of a surplus of nails, delegates attending a meeting of the western Canada section, Canadian House-Builders' Association, voted Tuesday.

Delegates said flood damage to home and farm buildings in B.C. has made an extensive rebuilding program necessary.

Decision to give B.C. first consideration was taken during discussion of distribution of 20,000 kegs of nails in excess of the regular quota. The surplus has been made available by a federal government order banning manufacture of wire fences for three months to increase the supply of nails.

Later today cabinet ministers from Ontario and the four western provinces are scheduled to meet with builders, civic officials, and D. B. Mansur of Ottawa, director of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to discuss plans for low-cost housing development with a low down-payment suited to lower income groups.

James Auld of Vancouver told delegates that B.C. was in need of large supplies of nails and other building materials in areas devastated by floods.

Following today's meetings, delegates will adjourn to Banff for a brief session Wednesday.

Crop Conditions

OTTAWA (CP)—Crop conditions over the greater part of the prairie provinces have been "fairly well maintained" during the last week, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said Tuesday in one of a series of periodic crop reports.

The British Columbia floods have prevented correspondents from assessing the damage in the Fraser and Kootenay Valleys although it is known to be severe. In the Okanagan Valley, however, conditions are still promising. Good crops of apricots, peaches and apples are looked for but pears, cherries and prunes are expected to be light crops in some orchards.

Senate Told Screening Keeps Out Communists

OTTAWA (CP)—Screening of would-be immigrants to Canada is intended to prevent the admission of all subversive elements, including Communists, Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, Deputy Minister of Mines and Resources, said Tuesday.

To the Senate committee on immigration, Dr. Keenleyside explained that security officers are attached to each Canadian immigration team.

"The objective of our screening is to keep out all subversive elements, whether they are Nazi or Communists," he declared.

Arrangements were being made to admit Baltic refugees from Sweden under arrangements for bringing in displaced persons. Swedes themselves, however, were only admitted if they were close relatives of people already here or able to work in basic industries. When members expressed surprise and said they thought Canada was anxious to obtain Scandinavian immigrants, he said the department was only carrying out government policy.

"I think the judgment of this committee would be to deal as generously as possible with the D.P. situation," Senator T. A. Crerar, Lib., Manitoba, said. "After all, they are in that position because they chose freedom. There'll be some misfits, there may be a few Communists who will get in, but I should think the great majority will be people anxious to work."

Senator Crerar said also that the stringent regulations which prohibit entry of Germans unless they can prove an anti-Nazi background should be reviewed.

Dr. Keenleyside was asked why doctors who had graduated from great European universities had difficulty in becoming qualified under provincial regulations.

DOCTORS OPPOSE

"The medical associations in Canada are opposed to it," he said. "That is the main answer."

Dr. Frank Foulds, director of citizenship in the state secretary's department, said there are indications that Mennonites are being "assimilated." Migration of older Mennonites from Canada to Paraguay was a reflection of their dissatisfaction with the modern ideas of their sons and daughters. The young people were accepting Canadian ways; none were leaving the Dominion with the older folk.

Offices Of Firm On Strike Blasted

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—A dynamite explosion damaged four offices of strike-ridden Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico Coaches Inc., Tuesday.

L. P. Rheudsaal, acting assistant superintendent of drivers, said he saw a half-stick of dynamite lying on the floor, a four or five-inch fuse attached. He ran out and closed the door and the explosion followed.

Strike Predicted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—C.I.O. maritime workers in the Los Angeles harbor area had the word of longshoreman chief Harry Bridges Tuesday "there is going to be a strike and it's going to be a lollapalooza."

"We are going to figure out some ways and means to do something about it," Bridges said. "There is no law that says you have to break your back while working on the waterfront."

R.C.A.F. Rescues U.S. Fishing Boat

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two R.C.A.F. boats Tuesday rescued a U.S. fishing vessel, aground and sinking rapidly near Active Pass, midway between here and Victoria.

Air force headquarters received an urgent message from the United States Coast Guard at Seattle that the fishing boat, the Teddy J had run aground.

The R.C.A.F. boats—the high-speed launch Malacite and the supply vessel Nimkish—were dispatched to the scene by 122 Marine Squadron at Patricia Bay.

The Nimkish pumped the water from the Teddy J and refloated it. Emergency repairs were effected and the vessel proceeded to Seattle.

NO PARTISAN PLAY, PLEASE

IT IS TO BE HOPED THAT THE special session of the Legislature which Premier Johnson has convened for July 7 will be marked by a wholesome and harmonious discussion of the pressing needs of British Columbia's flood victims. This meeting of the elected representatives of the people may go down in provincial history as unique, not because there is anything unusual in evoking constitutional prerogatives, but more specifically because this is a case which offers an excellent opportunity to approach emergent legislation with humanitarian impulses predominating.

It is not our intention or desire to "lecture" any member of the House—government supporter or otherwise—on his or her duties in the tragic circumstances which have occasioned the calling of this special session. We are thinking of the people in the present bleak and desolate areas of the mainland. Mr. Johnson has made it his business to learn of their plight at first hand by several personal visits to the afflicted regions. He knows what they need, what they are expecting of their governments, and what in the general interest, by the way, must be done and done quickly. In other words, the agenda of the House on July 7, and for such time afterward as may be necessary, should have no place for any kind of political manoeuvre.

FREEDOM IMPERILED?

SAFEGUARDS TO FREEDOM OF speech, and particularly that phase of it embodied in the press, are sought in a brief submitted yesterday to the Parliamentary Committee on Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms by the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association. The organization, representing 86 leading Canadian dailies, advocated a statute to guarantee such freedom, and it listed five "examples of threats to freedom of the press" which, in the opinion of the group, demonstrate the need for a protective law or an amendment to the B.N.A. Act.

These examples were: The Alberta Press Act, 1937-38; the B.C. Special Powers Act; the Quebec Padlock Law; legislation which permits pressure groups such wide powers that they may restrict or prohibit advertising by their members; legislation which provides fines for newspapers which publish advertising from non-members of an association.

The gist of the C.D.N.A. argument is that laws exist, or can easily be imposed, that violate the principles of freedom of speech to which we as a nation give allegiance. In the words of the brief, "We have been coasting insecurely upon British precedents and sometimes violating them and, in the light of Canada's membership in the United Nations and its responsibilities as a member, the C.D.N.A. urges that the committee give favorable consideration to a constitutional amendment guaranteeing these fundamental freedoms."

There is much to be said in favor of a system built on common law and mutually recognized rights, privileges and responsibilities. It may have a stability and force exceeding that of legislation committed to paper. But there may arise cases where the existence of a national statute would be of great value in making illegal the attempted legislation of lesser governments which might seek to infringe common freedoms. Such possibilities are mentioned in the brief to which we have referred.

The Alberta Press Act, for instance, which was later declared ultra vires on grounds other than the preservation of freedom, would have forced newspapers to publish government statements answering criticism, and otherwise interfered with the free management of the press. The B.C. Special Powers Act, which was passed by the Patullo regime in 1934, and died two years later without having been put into effect, gave the government wide powers over "civil and property rights" and would have enabled it to destroy a newspaper that is disliked. The Quebec Padlock Law, empowering the government to close up a publication merely on suspicion that it is a Communist organ, is another case in point. Powers to control the content of advertising, which have been given to certain trade associations in British Columbia and Alberta, are seen by the C.D.N.A. as a violation of the right of a legitimate mercantile concern to place its products and prices before the public.

There exists no federal law to overrule such provincial legislation on the grounds of infringement of press freedom, although in some cases there are curbs as a result of other considerations. It is to correct this situation, and to guard against threats which it is felt may be made in the future, that the newspapers association has called for constitutional safeguards. The appeal is one that—particularly in these times—should be given extremely careful consideration.

At the same time, the fact should not be overlooked that the mere listing of rights and freedoms in a constitution does not guarantee their practice. The Russian constitution, high in ideals but low in implementation, is an example. On the other hand, the country in which the personal freedom of the citizen has long been recognized as having reached its highest state of development—Great Britain—has no written bill of rights and liberties. Her freedoms—and Canada's—have grown "from precedent to precedent" through the ages, yet it could not be argued that they are any the less firmly established because of their intangible nature.

The truth is that rights and freedoms reside in the thoughts and feelings of a people rather than in written constitutions. If support and love of them is lacking, then no amount of written words will preserve them. But if those rights and freedoms are an integral part of the life of every man, woman and child; if they are recognized and exercised as a natural heritage; if their infringement by elected representatives is followed by swift and definite action in the polling booths; then they will be safeguarded far more realistically than could be achieved by mere commitment to paper. They will remain an essential part of our national life rather than merely a part of our law.

EXTENDING THE FRANCHISE

LIBERALIZATION OF THE DOMINION Elections Act to extend the federal franchise to Canadian citizens of Japanese origin has now provided the basis on which similar action might be taken by the Provincial government. A section of our citizenry which is regarded as Canadian for national purposes can no longer remain alien in the provincial field.

By those who have misgivings over granting the franchise to citizens in this category, the point should be clearly understood that the Ottawa decision does not constitute an extension of such rights to ex-enemies in the recent war. The people affected are Canadians, just as are those whose origins are traceable to other nations and who have acquired citizenship in this Dominion. Implicit in their status, of course, is first allegiance to Canada and the repudiation of any thought of dual citizenship on their part.

The action of the Dominion Government is another step along the modern democratic road. It will be noted that the right to vote is not yet given to certain other groups, among them Indians on reservations. Certain technicalities have still to be overcome before the franchise can be broadened to include these minorities. The measure taken to cover the Canadians of Japanese origin, however, is constructive. It is one, moreover, which should greatly facilitate the assimilation of this section of our population and should pave the way for similar provisions in British Columbia. Action on the question at the coming special session would seem logical.

COST OF PROMISES

IN VIEW OF THE FACT THAT THREE provincial general elections are to take place between now and the latter part of July, the Financial Post of Toronto argues that the electorates concerned should be told what it would cost them to fulfill all the promises it fully expects will be made by the rival parties from the hustings.

As the well-known financial weekly argues, every time a politician promises anything he (or she) should be ready to quote the cost of implementing it. We then read: "If he intends to carry out his promise, it is entirely appropriate that the public should have that information. If he doesn't know the cost, it is obviously unwise to make the promise before he does. And as for making promises that are not going to be kept, that's a kind of horseplay that we can do without."

None will question the reasonableness of the Post's contention. Judged by editorial comment across Canada in recent months, however, we have detected several newspapers—especially those antipathetic to the various governments—demanding almost everything but the moon, regardless of the cost, and, at the same time, howling to high heaven because of increasing taxation.

It is neither new nor novel to say that we can not have our cake and eat it. To quote the Post again: "What lobbyists, pressure groups, 'reformers' and others want from governments costs money," while "the general public is the cow to be milked for that money—and the only cow." Hence it is only right and proper that the promise makers and the promise wanters should say: "Let us first hear what it is going to cost." This is sound advice.

AND THE ALTERNATIVE?

ACCORDING TO A RECENT EDITORIAL in the Winnipeg Free Press, 29 cents of every dollar earned in Canada is taken away in taxes. Which evokes from our contemporary in the Manitoba capital the following:

"This country is spending far more than it can afford on government. It is supporting a system of administration which, with insatiable appetite, absorbs through one mouth or another far too large a part of the ordinary man's income. It is increasing and not reducing the bureaucracy which sprawls across the country managing everything, producing nothing and living on the labor of the public."

All of the foregoing may be quite true; but what the people of Canada would like to know from the Free Press is just exactly what "system of administration" it would advocate to correct the condition of which it complains. A collection of generalities does not get us very far.

Why Be President?

By PETER EDSON from Washington

ON A RECENT "Meet the Press" interview, United States presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey was asked why he wanted to be President. American Mercury Editor Lawrence Spivak, who asked the question, pointed out that it usually took years off a man's life. Why, therefore, had Governor Dewey for eight years been trying so hard to get it?

In measured words spoken with such emphasis there could be no doubt of their sincerity, Dewey answered, "I haven't the slightest idea."

IF ANY OF THE OTHER half-dozen active aspirants for this job were asked the same question, their honest answers would have to be pretty much the same. For the record, these candidates and the dozen others who secretly hope that the political lightning will strike them might try to hand you the line that it was the call of duty, the highest honor the nation had to bestow, or the need to save the country from a grasping and dishonest opposition. Deep down inside, they all know that's the bunk.

Merriman Smith, who covers the White House and the President for United Press, has just written a book about the man-killing job. He calls it "A President Is Many Men." In good reportorial style, Smith points out why the President has to be all things to all people. The book goes beyond that, however, in detailed explanations of why nobody should ever want the job.

THE $75,000 SALARY, plus $30,000 a year travel and entertainment expenses, sound nice but mean little. It costs more than that to run the place, in spite of the White House staff of 500 the government furnishes free.

Will Hays called election to the Presidency a sentence of death. Smith figures that the average President, elected at age 54, dies at 68. The average man of 54 can expect to live till he is 73. So the job takes five years off his life.

NO FARMER WORKS as long hours as the President. Office workers would scream at the hours of a presidential secretary. From 7 a.m. till midnight, except when they work late.

The President must be all smiles when he feels like the wrath of God. He must see delegations whom he doesn't want to see, including Indians who change to their feathered headdress in the wash rooms. All of them know more about running the job than the President, and tell him so.

He gets from 1,000 to 3,000 letters a day, hauled in three truckloads.

HE HAS TO SIGN his name from 200 to 600 times a day, to mail, commissions, private relief bills and laws passed by Congress. He gets gifts by the hundred, including fish, fowl and bow ties. Better than a baby a day is named after him, and the parents tell him about it, expecting some kind of acknowledgment in return.

The social responsibilities are a job in themselves. On top of the usual round of luncheons, dinners, receptions and clam bakes which the President must attend at all times for political purposes, there is a formal season. It begins in late November and runs to Lent.

IT INCLUDES DINNERS for the cabinet, the judiciary, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House and two for the diplomatic corps. Then there are judicial, diplomatic, congressional, army-navy, press and federal agency receptions. Visiting foreign dignitaries rate other receptions and dinners. At some of these functions the President must shake hands with over 2,000 people in one evening.

All these affairs are run according to strict protocol and set social custom. The President has no private life. The White House has 60 rooms on four floors, but two of these floors have the big rooms in which state occasions are held, and through which sightseers may trudge on certain days of the week.

THE PRESIDENT'S LIVING quarters are the 11 parlor and bedroom suites on the second floor. The President and his family are virtual prisoners here. They are constantly guarded by the Secret Service.

Whenever the President travels, this Secret Service protection is increased. Wherever he goes, the job follows him—even on vacations. Recent Presidents have averaged from 8,000 to 30,000 miles a year. Every fourth year a President running for re-election must get out and campaign actively, as President Truman is now doing on a coast-to-coast swing around the country. Every place he goes, every crowd he faces, must be with the knowledge that some crank may take a shot at him.

Maybe It's Just The Hibernating Season

Behind The Words

By JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

THE two remaining frankly capitalistic political entities in the world are the United States and certain of the Dominions—notably Canada.

These then, being no other, must be the "monopoly capitalists" mentioned by Mr. E. B. Jolliffe, who leads the C.C.F. Party in Ontario, when he says:

"The choice today is between piecemeal planning in the interests of the few by monopoly capitalism on the one hand and, on the other hand, social and economic planning in the interests of the whole community by an agency of government... responsible and accountable in a democratic way to all the people."

Mr. Jolliffe's political views are well known and, while we may not agree with him, we respect his convictions. It is somewhat more difficult, however, if

Credo Of Democracy

Norway Digest

SPEAKING at the annual convention of the Sons of Norway in Baltimore recently, Mr. Wilhelm Morgenstjerne, Norwegian Ambassador to the United States, termed the Marshall Plan "a manifestation of the same vision and realism which the United States showed in launching the lend lease program during the war, aiming at assisting war devastated Europe in getting back on her feet and gaining strength for whatever the future may have in store."

"I want to tell you," stressed the speaker "that there prevails in Norway today, admiration and gratitude towards America, not only for the Marshall Plan, but also for what America did during the war. America has shown a generosity, a brotherly spirit towards fellow nations, which is in keeping with the finest tradition of the American people. We are proud to have been your brothers in arms, and to have shared with you the glorious victory over the dark forces of Nazism and Fascism. I do not have to confirm to you that Nor-

OF THE WEST "The Norwegian government has made its position absolutely clear on this point, and it has stated emphatically, that while we want to have the friendliest intercourse with all nations, Norway belongs geographically, economically and culturally to the western world. We are, and shall continue to be, a western democracy. This will, of course, not prevent us from having as close relations as possible with our great neighbor to the east, also our ally during the war, to whom we are deeply grateful for liberating northern Norway from the yoke of the Nazis.

"It has struck me how the meaning of certain words, for instance 'Liberal' and 'Democratic,' are sometimes being perverted these days. Do not let us ever forget that they are noble words, born of struggle, progress and liberty. Do not let us ever for-

Ways That Are Dark

HAPPY is the man who can recall faces and names as quickly as a chance acquaintance meets him on the street. But unhappy is the unfortunate fellow who fumbles with his powers of recollection, stammers through a general and innocuous salutation and wanders off wondering whom he has greeted. The experience carries with it a complete sense of frustration, a distressing questioning of mental powers and personal humiliation.

Special courses in memory training may cure this deficiency, may even bring the student to a point where he can be introduced to a circle of strangers at a cocktail party and have the faculty of remembering who is who. But what hope is there for the man who has difficulty in placing people now that the use of over-size sun-glasses has become so widespread? Back in the days when we considered horse opera the peak of moving picture entertainment, we were able to spot the villain by the handkerchief behind which he hid the lower half of his face. But at least his eyes were visible between the cloth and the brim of his pulled-down hat. The modern disguise, particularly as it is used by the fair sex, is infinitely more effective. While the dark-glasses obscure the top half of the face, the formalized make-up of the mouth standardizes the appearance in a way to defy recognition.

Such deliberate obscuration calls for action on behalf of those individuals who want to identify their friends and who are being driven into a mumbling imbecility by a fashion which eliminates distinguishing characteristics. There should be a law that all over-size sun glasses can be worn only when accompanied by a sandwich board bearing the wearer's name. Or, better still, the manufacturers should develop a one-way glass which permits the outsider to look in but prevents the insider from looking out. That would teach them. That would be poetic justice. Or maybe we will compromise for a new gesture of salutation which requires the removal of the disguise whenever the individual says hello.—A. H. S.

Global Survey

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press News Analyst
(For DeWitt Mackenzie)

WHETHER he intends it to or not, President Truman's remarks last week about "old Joe Stalin" could reopen the question of a meeting with that particular Joe.

This has been in abeyance since the Potsdam meeting three years ago, which left much to be desired from many standpoints.

Since then, Truman has said he has asked Stalin to come to see him in Washington, and Stalin has stayed away.

Last week when Truman was talking about Stalin he tossed in a remark that the latter is a prisoner of the "poliburo" in Moscow.

Checking on this at the State Department, reporters found an air of surprise and a prevailing impression that Stalin is the poliburo's boss, not its prisoner.

FRIENDLY REFERENCE

Now Truman said absolutely nothing about seeing Stalin, but let us look into what his friendly reference could mean.

He made the statement that the United States is not waging cold war, despite the way that expression has worked itself into the American idiom since the Truman doctrine of containing Communism was laid down more than a year ago and became the core of the United States bipartisan foreign policy.

What Stalin thinks of all this may not be too important.

The point may be what the American people think, this being an election year.

Truman, long pledged to carry on in the footsteps of his predecessor, the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, may be following in his master's footsteps. In F.D.R.'s own words, he used to return, at such times as this, to a political position "Just a little left of centre."

BETTER RELATIONS

Leaving out of this discussion the trumpeting of Carroll Reece, Republican Party national chairman, that the President is biding for the Communist vote, let us proceed on the assumption that Truman figures the country would not take unkindly to better relations with Russia.

If this is so, a meeting with Stalin is conceivable, and such a meeting is easier because of what the President said last week.

WELL ARMED

Brandon Sun

Dependable estimates show that Russia has at least 4,250,000 men under arms, compared with not more than 1,400,000 for the U.S. and 1,000,000 for the U.K. Canada has practically no armed forces, except instructional and maintenance groups, and Mr. Abbott in the budget speech announced that there was no intention of doing anything more at present.

ELECTION STEALING

Ottawa Citizen

The "free" Czech elections have taken place, and, as expected, the Communists have been returned by an overwhelming majority. It used to be an interesting pastime to try to guess how elections would go even in places where we had no direct interest in the result. But this harmless pastime has been taken from us in many countries. We know the result in advance.

NO PARENTS ALLOWED

The Times of London

Newcastle-on-Tyne's new dental college is so apprehensive of the havoc grown-up behavior may wreak on the nerves of the young that it has decreed that parents shall not be allowed within its walls, its theory being that children are not themselves frightened of the dentist, but catch the fear from those who should be, but are not, old and wise enough to have acquired a proper measure of stoicism.

Grownups tend to indulge in the grossly flattering delusion that they understand children, but rare indeed is the insight which can reach back through the years and realize that it is often not the seemingly obvious evils of pain and illness which worry children, but the absurd, the trivial fears which, to the rational mind, are not fears at all. Adults carry in them the infection and decay of their own lost and exiled selves, and Newcastle-on-Tyne is right to ban the pernicious creatures from a dental college where the operating theatre is decorated with fairy stories and nursery rhymes and the waiting-room, where parents are accustomed to endure agonies, is transformed, with a sure touch of imaginative extravagance, into an aquarium.

The DOCTOR Says:MEDICINE MAKES GREAT STRIDES IN REDUCING CHILDHOOD DEATHS

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

The chances of dying in the first years of life were much greater 35 years ago than they are today. The death rate for children has dropped about 80 per cent. Furthermore, this great improvement has been accomplished during a time in which there have been two World Wars and a major economic depression.

The lowered death rate has not been alike for all the diseases or conditions responsible for early death. The improvement for measles, for example, has been about 93 per cent. Expressed differently, this means that for every 100 children who died of measles in 1910, only seven would die now.

OTHER DISEASES DROP

The drop for most other infectious diseases has also been great. There is much less chance of dying from scarlet fever, whooping cough, diphtheria, diarrhea and inflammation of the bowels and tuberculosis now than in 1910. Fewer infants now die from rheumatic fever, pneumonia, influenza and appendicitis than in the past.

The only important exception to this improvement in mortality has been automobile accidents. The automobile is responsible for a great increase in the number of childhood deaths. According to the report of a large life insurance company, the increase of deaths from automobile accidents to boys, from one to 14 years old, has been 93 per cent, and, for girls, 144 per cent.

For those diseases in which it has been possible for medical science to be active, giant strides have been made. There is no reason to believe that efforts to reduce sickness and death among children have yet reached their peak.

Between 1911 and 1915, about five children in every thousand died each year. Between 1941 and 1945 only about one child in a thousand died annually.

Question: Are there any hospitals where patients with severe arthritis can be treated for long periods of time?

Answer: This is a great defect of our present system; there are few such hospitals. Several larger cities are working on the problem of providing hospitalization for such chronic diseases as arthritis, but the solution is not yet in sight.

Japanese-Canadians Given Vote In Amended Federal Election Act

OTTAWA (CP)—The single transferable vote got a going-over in the Commons Tuesday, but the members couldn't agree whether it was an improvement over present voting methods.

This is the system where the voter has more than one choice of candidates in marking his ballot paper. Some authorities claim it guarantees against the election of a candidate with only a minority of the votes cast in his constituency.

The discussion developed during study of a bill making extensive changes in the Dominion Elections Act.

Some members urged the adoption of the transferable vote for federal general elections, contending it would improve the voting system, while others argued it was so "complicated" that it would prove unworkable.

The bill, which finally was given third reading and now goes to the Senate, contained one important change—the extension of the federal franchise to Canadians of Japanese origin. The present law denies them the vote in federal elections if they are barred from voting provincially. Now, no exception will be made.

NO VOTE FOR INDIANS

The Commons voted against extending the franchise to Indians. By a vote of 58 to 39, the chamber rejected a motion of Don Brown, Lib., Essex West, Ont., which would have extended the vote to native Indians.

Leslie Mutch, Lib., Winnipeg South, initiated the debate on the single transferable vote. He said the system would prevent members from being elected to Parliament with a minority of votes.

His views drew support from Robert Fair, S.C., Battle River, Alta., and John Diefenbaker, P.C., Lake Centre, Sask., and A. L. Smith, P.C., Calgary West. John MacNicol, P.C., Toronto-Davenport, and T. L. Church, P.C., Toronto-Broadview, said they were opposed to the system. Angus MacInnis, C.C.F., Vancouver East, said he favored a system of proportional representation.

PAYMENTS EXTENDED

Besides the election bill, the chamber adopted a measure amending the War Veterans' Allowance Act to give an extra $16 a month to the majority of the 29,000 aged or needy veterans and widows of veterans now receiving payments under its provisions.

Two other bills amending the Veterans' Insurance Act and the Veterans' Rehabilitation Act also were approved.

First reading was given measures to reorganize the set-up of the Board of Transport Commissioners and to appoint a commission to revise Canada's laws. The last revision was in 1927.

Study of health department estimates was resumed briefly in the late evening.

Newspapers Demand Law Guaranteeing Freedom Of Press

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Daily Newspapers Association asked today for a law guaranteeing freedom of the press in Canada.

In a brief to the parliamentary committee on human rights and fundamental freedoms, the C.D.N.A. said it is convinced these rights are "insecure."

Its 86 member newspapers "know that threats have been made to freedom of speech, freedom of the press and other freedoms in the past," the brief said.

Emphasizing that "they feel sure that threats will be made in the future," it listed these "examples of threats to freedom of the press:"

1. The Alberta Press Act, 1937-38.
2. The British Columbia Special Powers Act.
3. The Quebec padlock law.
4. Legislation which permits pressure groups such wide power that they may restrict or prohibit advertising by their members.
5. Legislation which provides fines for newspapers which publish advertising for non-members of an association.

POSSIBILITIES SEEN

"Without constitutional safeguards," the brief said, "any or all governments in Canada could destroy freedom of speech, freedom of the press, the right peacefully to assemble and the right to petition against grievances."

Fundamentally, the C.D.N.A. said in an accompanying definition, freedom of the press is not a special privilege reserved for newspaper publishers.

"It is rather a phase of a much larger freedom—the freedom of all men to speak their minds openly and without fear."

“WE CLOTHE THE FAMILY”

38 Receive Postal Service Badges

Left to right: Percy H. Walker, a letter carrier for 40 years, and H. N. Walls, a postal clerk for 43 years, receive faithful service badges from G. H. Clarke, regional director of postal services for B.C. and the Yukon, at a ceremony in the Victoria Post Office.

A beat that used to take him from town to God's Head Heights on foot was recalled by Percy H. Walker, more familiarly known as “Pete,” when he was presented with a faithful service badge, at a ceremony on the main floor of the Victoria Post Office, Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Walker, a letter carrier for 40 years, was one of 38 employees, all with more than a quarter of a century service with the Victoria Post Office, to receive the badge from G. H. Clarke, regional director of Postal Services for B.C. and the Yukon.

“I delivered letters in the James Bay area for 21 years and found the work and the people nice,” said Mr. Walker who has worked under four postmasters during his 40 years.

“Men and women who were kiddies when I first started on the route and used to accompany me along their particular block, stop me on the street now to tell me about their own families.”

The outside work appealed to Mr. Walker who said he turned down an inside job some years ago, in order to keep on with his route.

Oldest of the old-timers in point of service was H. N. Walls, who has been a postal clerk for 43 years and who like Mr. Walker worked under four different postmasters. W. C. Harnell had 41 years as a postal clerk. Postmaster John B. Sinclair, who has been in the service for 40 years received a badge also.

“My remarks will be brief as you all know the mails can't wait,” Mr. Clarke said. “This badge typifies a service to the public for more than 25 years and I congratulate all those who have qualified.”

Parliamentary Committee Rejects Bill Of Rights As Federal Law

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Isley let fly Tuesday with a barrage of questions about the “implications” of giving Canadians a bill of rights by amending the constitution.

Setting the pace as chairman of the parliamentary committee on human rights and fundamental freedoms, he rattled off a series of rhetorical queries pointing up the off-beat warning that to change the British North America Act is no run-of-the-mill matter.

The committee, deciding it should not recommend a bill of rights by federal statute, agreed to seek the opinion of Justice Department experts about the alternative, a B.N.A. Act amendment.

This decision came after the reading of briefs from the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association and 16 Chinese organizations. The C.D.N.A. urged enactment of a law guaranteeing freedom of the press; the Chinese groups appealed for “fair play and equal treatment” for Canada's 35,000 persons of Chinese descent.

At previous meetings the committee had heard briefs from the committee for a Bill of Rights, the Civil Rights Union of Toronto and the Canadian Jewish Congress.

D. H. W. Henry, a justice department counsel, said most of the changes suggested in the briefs would require constitutional amendments rather than federal statutes.

NOT BY STATUTE

After F. P. Varcoe, deputy minister of justice, had outlined the type of federal statute which might be passed, Mr. Isley said:

“I do not feel the government of Canada should be asked by this committee to give favorable consideration to enactment of a bill of rights by federal statute. I submit any consideration we suggest should be for the other choice . . . I think the case against this one is very, very strong.”

Mr. Varcoe said the “only justification” of a federal statute for a bill of rights would be “criminal law.” Any such law would affect existing provincial or federal laws.

If federal legislation was affected, the new law would be unnecessary; the existing laws could be changed or repealed.

“If provincial legislation was affected, you'd have immediately the prospect of conflict with the provinces. The accusation would be that you were trying to interfere.”

DISCUSSES DRAFT

Mr. Isley referred to a draft amendment proposed by the Committee for a Bill of Rights. It would make it unlawful for Parliament or any Legislature to:

1. Abridge freedom of speech and expression; the press or other means of communication; religion; lawful assembly, association or organization.
2. Require or impose excessive bail or cruel or unusual punishment or exile Canadian citizens.
3. Subject any person to unreasonable interference with his privacy, family, home or correspondence.
4. Subject any person to arbitrary arrest or detention.
5. Suspend the right of habeas corpus.

Mr. Isley called it a “short bill of right.” But he asked: “Does it make it impossible for the government to meet an emergency?”

Adoption of a clause prohibiting arbitrary arrest might leave the government unable to pass a War Measures Act, he suggested.

He contended that the Canadian Parliament “cannot be supreme the minute this goes into the constitution.”

European Governments Question U.S. Draft Of Terms On Aid

LONDON (Reuters) — Some of the “unacceptable” clauses in the Washington draft of the bilateral European Recovery Program agreements have been shown London financial editors. This draft lays down Washington's present ideas of the conditions which the European countries must undertake to qualify for Marshall aid after July 3.

The draft containing 26 clauses is understood to have been sent to the 16 countries May 17.

Clause five, dealing with tariffs and preferences, would bind the European recipients of Marshall aid to the International Trade Organization charter of Havana. This itself would impose a unilateral obligation, since the United States has not yet ratified the Havana charter. It is believed also that this clause washes out the easements made in the charter precisely to enable the European countries to help each other by preferential arrangements.

It might be interpreted as entitling the United States to control tariffs and preferences, notably Imperial preferences.

Under another clause the United States, at any time that it felt a currency change was desirable in the interests of European recovery, would be entitled to “seek consultation” with the country concerned and could then “require” that country to confer with the International Monetary Fund.

This has been regarded in Britain and on the continent as going beyond the International Monetary Fund agreement, whereunder the initiative lies wholly with the United States or any other third party.

The clause about balancing budgets has caused more concern.

In some continental countries than in Britain. It has been described as requiring France to have a more strictly balanced budget than she has ever had in history. Britain's budget, by contrast, has a surplus even on the strictest possible accountancy.

Nevertheless, Britain could hardly accept, in principle, a clause entitling Washington to question the British budget whenever Washington felt that any item was not conducive to maximizing productivity.

John Stonehewer Wed In Toronto

John Stonehewer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stonehewer, Victoria, traveled to Toronto earlier this month to claim as his bride Lila Navinia Burrows, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burrows of Toronto.

Rev. Leslie Hunt officiated at the June 5 ceremony in the Church of the Epiphany.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown with satin bodice cut in an off-the-shoulder style below an inset of net, and a skirt of lace the same as that of her Dutch cap and fingertip veil. She carried an arm bouquet of scarlet roses. "Pink and green were chosen for the gowns of Mrs. H. Jogg, matron of honor, and Miss Marnie Jones, bridesmaid.

Leaving Next Month For Wisconsin

The former Winona Ross, who became Mrs. Bob Nilan at an evening wedding ceremony last Friday, will leave with her husband early in July for Madison, Wisconsin. Mr. Nilan, who graduated from the University of British Columbia this year with his degree of Master of Science in Agriculture, will study for his Ph.D. at Madison. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lynn Ross, and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Jack G. Nilan of Vancouver.

Ivory Prayer Book Carried By Bride At Cathedral Rites

The groom's gift of an ivory prayer book, from which hung streamers of white ribbon with sweetheart roses, was carried by Olive Kathleen Ogston at the wedding ceremony yesterday evening when she became the bride of James D. Porter.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Olive Ogston of Winnipeg, and of the late Douglas W. Ogston of Johannesburg, South Africa. Her groom is the son of Mrs. F. Porter, Victoria, and the late Walter H. Porter.

Canon Michael Coleman read the nuptial service in Christ Church Cathedral, decorated for the wedding with philadelphus and pink peonies.

W. A. Gabb of Vancouver came to give his niece in marriage. Her gown was of French ivory lace, cut on princess lines with a matching train caught at the waist. A band of orange blossoms held her net veil.

Miss Elsie M. Ogston, who came from Winnipeg to attend her sister, wore a gown of dawn pink jersey silk and a Juliette cap to match. She carried a colonial bouquet of mauve sweet peas.

Rex W. Porter stood with his brother as best man, and guests were ushered to their seats by Ivor and Cyril Fuller.

While the register was being signed, R. J. Bevan, organist, played "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, Musgrave Street, following the ceremony. Mrs. Ogston and Mrs. Porter welcomed guests, the former wearing a gown of soft grey crepe trimmed with smoky grey pearl buttons, and the latter in an ensemble of Wedgewood blue and grey.

The bride's table was laid with a cloth crocheted by the bride's mother and was centred by a three-tier wedding cake. Floral decorations throughout were roses and sweet peas. Mrs. W. A. Gabb and Mrs. C. Hickson presided at the tea table, and servers were Mrs. Ivor Fuller, Mrs. Cyril Fuller, Mrs. Peter McLaughlin, Miss Lillian Bailey and Miss Eva Barker.

A three-piece suit of cream wool herringbone, which she herself wore was worn by the new Mrs. Porter as she left for a honeymoon on the mainland. Her accessories were cream and navy. The young couple will return to make their home in Victoria.

DOMESTIC SQUABBLES

Husbands and wives' spats have been considered one of the natural by-products of marriage. Nobody expected married people to be like the little birds that in their nest agree, and so when Mister and Missus went to the mat over dishwasher coffee, or the wife's new hat, or whether little Johnny should be spanked or taken to a psychologist, no one was shocked or surprised. It was regarded as just one of those things that we may deplore, but that we feel is inevitable.

Now, however, we learn that science has gotten around to investigating the why of the domestic rumpus and why so many husbands and wives, who are fine and noble Christian characters and who get along beautifully with everybody else, are in a perpetual fight with each other. It isn't because they don't love each other, because they do. We all know innumerable couples who work their fingers to the bone to provide each other with every physical comfort and luxury, yet with whom every word is the fighting word and who cannot carry on even the simplest conversation for five minutes without getting into a squabble.

NAGS, INSULTS

Certainly there is nothing more inexplicable than that so many husbands and wives who know that they have to live together, and who desire to live together, do nothing to make their marriages happy. The world is full of nagging, fretful, complaining wives who never say a pleasant word to their husbands, and husbands who say cruel and abusive things to their wives, or else take refuge in a silence that is more insulting than any words could be.

So if the Clinic that has been appointed to investigate why married people act the way they do, finds out the why of it, they will confer an inestimable blessing on the world. Of course, there are several reasons for the domestic squabbles that automatically present themselves. One is that many men and women are born with chips on their shoulders. They love a fight, and the more knock-down and drag out it is, the better. They get a kick out of being disagreeable, and the more they can maul anyone's vanity, the more fun they get out of it. They don't marry for love. They marry to get a sparring partner.

WHO'S BOSS

Another reason why husbands and wives are in a perpetual quarrel is because so many marriages are just one long struggle over which one shall be the boss. Each one is determined to be the head of the house and they engage in a life and death struggle until one or the other is laid in a coffin.

But my own thought on the subject is that the reason so many husbands and wives lead a cat and dog life is because they are too stupid, or too inert, or too lacking in initiative, to use any diplomacy in dealing with each other. They won't take the trouble to step high, wide and handsome around each other's peculiarities. They bump right into them and get bruises from

Ironing Shortcut

The handyman in your home can smooth ironing day chores by building an oversize ironing board of plywood to fit over your standard size board. Use the oversize board when pressing large pieces such as linens, draperies, men's shirts and the like, which usually require considerable handling. Experiments indicate the board should measure 42 by 20 inches, tapered at one end, for best results. Wood cleats with wood buttons which may be turned to hold it securely are fastened on the underside to fit it to the standard board.

Girl Accident Victim Improving

Doctors Russell B. Robertson and A. N. Reid, attending physicians, reported this morning that 12-year-old Kathleen Wilson, 1322 Ivy Place, victim of a Tuesday morning accident in the city, was showing signs of improvement.

The little girl has been unconscious ever since the collision between the bicycle she was riding and a car at the intersection of Kings Road and Cedar Hill Road yesterday morning at 8.30.

Dr. Robertson reported an examination of X-rays revealed no head fractures. The two doctors believe Miss Wilson is suffering from concussion but feel she will pull through alright.

Super-Highways Asked To Link National Parks

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal tourist-attracting projects were urged in the Senate Tuesday by senators from Manitoba and Nova Scotia.

Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, suggested a Dominion system of super-highways integrated with the national park system.

Senator Felix P. Quinn, P.C., Nova Scotia, appealed to the government for the rehabilitation of historic monuments around Halifax, particularly that port's Citadel Hill fortress.

They spoke as the Senate approved in principle a Commons measure to increase from $75,000 to $100,000 the yearly amount for the upkeep of national battlefields in the Quebec area.

CRAZED ANIMALS IN STREETS AFTER TRAIN WRECK—A head-on collision between two freight trains in Toronto, Ont., killed a C.N.R. brakeman and injured three other members of the train crews, and made a shambles of four carloads of livestock, killing 20 animals. A bull escaping from one of the shattered cars attacked Mrs. Edward Powell, sending her to hospital, butted two boys down a railway embankment, and tore up lawns before police shot it between the eyes with a blast from a shotgun. Here a squealing pig is grabbed by the ears and held by four trainmen after a short-lived escape from the wrecked boxcar. This one was captured in the wreckage but others gave merry chase.

Highway Construction In B.C. Costly Carson Tells A.B.T.V.I. Convention

By DAVID STOCK

PORT ALBERNI—"Governmenters today are having a more difficult time in Canada than they have ever had before," Works Minister E. C. Carson told delegates to the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island convention at their opening meeting held in Alberni Tuesday night.

B.C.'s population has increased to some 1,100,000 persons, he noted, and the government is having difficulty in keeping up with its growing needs.

FOUR MAJOR PROBLEMS

In this respect the government is faced with four major problems: Providing adequate electrical power, extending its education system, increasing the agricultural acreage and developing a good transportation system.

Dealing with the latter, Mr. Carson said he fully realized the present road system was not a proper or adequate highway system.

"The construction of highways in this province, however, is a costly business. It costs more per mile to build roads in British Columbia than in any other place on this continent because of the rugged terrain we have here," the minister pointed out.

The average cost of one mile of new road in B.C. is $50,000. "That's $1,000,000 for every 20 miles and million dollar bills don't grow on Christmas trees," he said.

22,000 MILES OF ROAD

There are 22,000 miles of road which have to be maintained by the provincial government, he said. At the present time, $7,000,000 is being spent every year for their upkeep.

It costs $1,000,000 annually for the maintenance of B.C. bridges alone, he said, and the operation of the province's various ferry systems takes another $650,000 every year from the provincial treasury.

Construction of new roads is going on, however. The Works Department is handicapped along this line though, because of a shortage of trained technical men and difficulty in getting necessary equipment.

Despite this, 800 miles of road have been constructed or reconstructed since the end of the war, the minister said.

"And the work which has been done has been of the highest standard... just as good as you will find anywhere in the United States," the minister said.

About $1,500,000 of road work has been undertaken on Vancouver Island, it was noted. Some of this has been completed, some is nearing completion and some is still in its early stages.

FROM LANGFORD TO COURTENAY

"By the middle of 1950," Mr. Carson promised, "we will have an excellent highway from Langford to Courtenay."

The minister would make no promises about side roads and new roads, however. First things must come first, he said. "We must crawl before we can walk and we must walk before we can run," he declared.

Turning to Dominion-Provincial relations, Mr. Carson said he was of the opinion the federal government should give more financial assistance to the province, particularly in connection with road construction.

"The United States federal government bears 50 per cent of main highway costs with the individual states. I think we should have the same arrangement here."

The Dominion government takes $150,000,000 from this province every year by various means, the minister said. Less than one-half finds its way back.

Mr. Carson was introduced by Norman S. King, president of the A.B.T.V.I., and was thanked by C. Y. Robson, manager of Bloedel, Stewart & Welch Ltd. Mayor Loran Jordan of Port Alberni, Mayor J. V. Hills of Alberni and James Mowatt, district M.L.A., welcomed convention delegates.

Dr. George Stewart Buried Here Today

Dr. George Stewart, 81, former administrator of the department of pensions and health for Alberta, who died Sunday was buried in Royal Oak Burial Park today. Born in Bristol, Ont., Dr. Stewart came here in 1937. Services were held at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel.

PONY GOES SHOPPING—Little Maureen Ilana Peters, astride her pony "Smoky," goes window shopping in one of the Sooke stores. No doubt both of them were looking for something with a "new look" to wear to All-Sooke Day, July 21, at Sooke River Flats.

Two Saskatchewan Cases To Be Decided By Privy Council

LONDON (CP)—Two appeals by the C.C.F. government of Saskatchewan against Saskatchewan court judgments are to be heard by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council—highest court of appeal in the British Commonwealth—towards the end of this month.

Both appeals have been brought despite the fact that the C.C.F. is opposed to the principle of the Privy Council having the right to decide such appeals. The Privy Council itself ruled in January, 1947, that Canada has the right to abolish appeals to the council if she chooses.

The first appeal will decide whether section 6 of the Farm Security Act, 1944, is ultra vires of the Saskatchewan Legislature. The act is designed to make the mortgage-holder take the same risks as the farmer—sharing losses in bad years and profits in good years—and to prevent debt accumulation and foreclosures resulting from drought and depression.

The Supreme Court of Canada ruled section 6 ultra vires of the province, with Mr. Justice Robert Taschereau dissenting. The decision, reached May 13, 1947, said section 6 was in substance legislation relating to interest and therefore beyond the jurisdiction of the province.

TRADE UNION ACT

In the second appeal the Saskatchewan Labor Relations Board is in dispute with the John East Iron Works of Saskatoon and the Attorneys-General of Saskatchewan, Ontario and Nova Scotia. The Privy Council will give a ruling as to whether section 5 (E) of the Trade Union Act, 1944, is ultra vires of the Saskatchewan Legislature.

This act, passed at a special session of Saskatchewan Legislature, guarantees the right of workers to form unions without interference, outlaws company unions and provides penalties for unfair labor practices, whether committed by employee or employer. It also establishes a Labor Relations Board comprising a chairman, two employer and two employee representatives and two public representatives.

Three Years After War's End Reichstag Ruins Look The Same

1945: This is the Reichstag Building on the Wilhelmstrasse as the war ended. Note the shattered piece of motorized equipment in the left foreground. The Reichstag was to the Germans what the Houses of Parliament in London are to Britishers.

1948: This is the same scene today, as photographed by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Al Cocking. The wrecked vehicle is still there. This is part of the Russian zone. After three years, Germany's centre of government is still a mass of ruins.

Eaglettes Win In Eighth On Barbara Bone's Homer

Barbara Bone's home run in the last half of the eighth inning last night gave Eaglettes a 3 to 2 win over Adverts in a women's A section softball game and put the league leaders two and one-half games in front of the runner-up Adverts.

The game, easily the best of the season, was a bitter pitcher's battle between Ruth Oster of Eaglettes and Marion McCullough.

Held scoreless for the first five innings Eaglettes had to come from behind to win. Adverts took the lead in the first inning with one run and then moved into a 2 to 0 margin in the fifth with another singleton.

Eaglettes got one tally back in the sixth and then forced the game into extra innings by tying the count in the last of the seventh. Smart fielding highlighted the game. Peggy Hancock of Adverts robbed Marion Lindgren of a certain home run with a sensational catch in the sixth inning. In the first of the eighth Shirley Stevens duplicated the feat with a great catch on a line smash by Vi Stieger of Adverts.

Winners picked up 10 hits to the losers three.

OTHER GAMES

Douglas Tires' current losing streak—extended to four games in the Men's Senior B League when a six-run rally in the ninth inning fell one run short and Army and Navy nipped the Tiresmen, 11 to 10. Selkirk Lumber bounced Sidney Roofing, 14 to 8, in the other league tilt.

P. H. & E. took over the leadership of the women's senior B softball loop by whipping Spencers, 22 to 6. Eileen Kirnie and Lillian Henn hit home runs.

Auto Races Carded Saturday; Stock Cars Show July 1

Promoter Bruce Passmore will stage his weekly auto race meet Saturday night. In addition to announcing the regular program today—Passmore also disclosed he has arranged to stage a stock car race on July 1 with a guaranteed purse of $500.

In 1946 stock car races were organized from fans in the stands who went out to the parking lot, brought in their automobiles and raced the 1/4-mile oval. Many of the fans claim these stock car races carry more thrills per second than the big car races and have been planning for one of these special events.

As the July 1 card will not interfere with the regular Saturday night fixtures, Passmore is arranging a main event stock car race of 50 laps. He is also calling in the model T's for a tin lizzie race of 25 laps. Time trials for the stock cars will get under way at the usual time of 7:30. Any one wanting to enter cars in the 50-lap event are asked to communicate with Passmore, 600 Courtney Street.

WITH THE Joe Louis-Joe Walcott bout needing a strong shot in the arm the forthcoming heavyweight fight received a tremendous lift the other night when Tony Zale made a smashing comeback against Rocky Graziano to regain the world middleweight title. For the time being at least, people will quit making fun of the old nappy eys. Louis may still be able to wrangle nunches together and hasn't that Walcott a remarkable pair of legs?

AFTER ALL Louis and Walcott are no older than the 34-year-old Zale. And look what the former Pittsburgh steel worker did to the 26-year-old Graziano. Another meeting of old gentlemen is now in the making for September, the 32-year-old Marcel Cerdan being the first choice of the Zale connections. The Old Guard has the floor, and will hold it until the younger fellows go to work. The downfall of Graziano, exposed definitely as nothing more than an over-publicized club fighter, was another striking illustration of the mediocrity of the newer crop.

SPEAKING OF THE Louis-Walcott bout it is strange to see the Brown Bomber in his new role of "big if." Always before the champion has been the solid, known quantity. The challenger has been the question mark. Things have changed since last December. Nobody worries about Walcott's weight. Little time is lost talking about his plan of battle. They figure he'll pull the same tricks that bothered Louis so much six months ago.

BECAUSE OF Walcott's smart battle in the Madison Square Garden ring few question his courage. It is generally accepted that Jersey Joe will not "freeze" in the ring. It is agreed that he can take it and that he can punch. About Louis and his knockout power, they are not so positive any more. Has he lost his punch? Has he slowed down? Can he get into tip-top shape? Have his hands lost their speed? Can he solve Walcott's style? Those are the questions they're asking about the Brown Bomber who puts his crown on the line for the 24th time the night of June 23 in the Yankee Stadium.

A's Blast Chiefs To Reach First Four

Palmer, Wilson Clout Home Runs As Kasparovitch Gets Seventh Victory

Six out of eight in the current home stand and into the first division of the W.I.L. for the first time in weeks is the record of the Victoria Athletics today.

The A's made the biggest step in their long jump from seventh place to a tie for fourth with Salem Senators last night by thumping the Wenatchee Chiefs, 8 to 4, for the second night in a row behind the steady seven-hit pitching of Len Kasparovitch.

Meanwhile Salem was dropping a pair to the league-leading Tacoma Tigers. As things now stand the A's are still seven games behind the pacesetters but only four games back of the second-place Bremerton Blue Jackets, and half a game behind the third-place Vancouver Capilanos.

In marking up his seventh win of the season Kasparovitch handcuffed the Chiefs for the first seven innings until his mates could fathom the fastball slants of Tom Rose, the Wenatchee right-hander. Kasparovitch allowed only two hits in the first seven innings, one a home run by his mound rival, Rose, in the sixth inning.

WILSON SCORES TWICE

A's hit the score sheet for a singleton in the fourth frame when Archie Wilson singled, went to second on Palica's error in centre field, stole third and scored on Jensen's one-bagger. In the last of the sixth with the score all even at 1 to 1, Wilson hit the first ball pitched out of the park for a home run to put the A's ahead 2 to 1.

In the seventh, Rose, who up until that time had hurled good baseball, suddenly blew sky high and issued five walks which, combined with a single by Vic Buccola, provided the Athletics with three runs. A walk to Palmer with the sacks loaded forced in one run, Wilson's outfield fly accounted for the second and another base on balls to Jensen, with the cushions bulging scored the third.

When Rose again found trouble locating the plate in the eighth, walking two out of the first three men to face him, manager

LEN KASPAROVITCH gets 7th win.

Chute Cronin of the Chiefs pulled the big righthander and injected himself into the fray. After Buccola skied out, Jack Palmer stopped into a slow curve and ripped it far over the left centre field wall, scoring two men ahead of him. Wilson and Recca followed with singles—but the uprising ended as Recca tried to stretch his single into extra bases and was cut down by Neil Bryant's throw from right field.

SCORE THREE IN NINTH

The Chiefs bounced back in the ninth to tally three runs as Kasparovitch eased up. McNulty and Bryant singled and Jerry Gardner exploded one over the fence for a four master and three runs.

Wilson continued to hit the ball well, picking up three hits in five trips including a home run while Palmer smashed out a double and a four-bagger to drive in four markers.

Tonight the clubs meet in the third game of the set at Athletic Park at 8. Southpaw Jim Propst will likely get the nod from manager Ted Norbert while Lou McCollum, the tough righthander, is ready to work for the Chiefs.

Tacoma's double victory over Salem at Salem boosted the Tigers' margin over the second-place Bremerton nine to three full games. Ray Fortier and Jim Gleason were the winning pitchers in Tacoma's triumphs, both turning in six hitters. Larry Lee's triple scored Danny Perlmutter with the deciding marker in the ninth inning of the second game as the Tigers won, 5 to 3. Salem dropped the opener, 6 to 3.

Keith Simon chalked up his eighth victory of the year as against four losses in pitching Bremerton to an 8 to 2 victory over Yakima.

A 17-game winner last year, Bill Werbowsky of Spokane last night hit the win column for the first time this season in six starts when he blanked the Vancouver Capilanos with four hits as the Indians won, 11 to 0. Costello and Snyder worked for the Caps. Short scores follow:

First Game—	B. H. E.
Tacoma	5 10 2
Salem	3 4 1
Fortier and Rose; Lazor, McCollum, (4) and Burcher.
Second—	B. H. E.
Tacoma	5 10 2
Salem	3 4 1
Gleason and Ross; Sporer and Stump.
Vancouver	0 5 3

Newhouser Twirls 7th Straight Win

The inauguration of night baseball in Detroit proved a smashing success—thanks to the strong left arm of Hal Newhouser.

The Tiger southpaw, pitching the first home night game in Detroit history, gave added proof last night that he still is the best left-hander in the American League when he twirled a two-hit 4 to 1 triumph over Philadelphia Athletics.

It was the seventh successive victory for Newhouser and the fifth in a row for the Tigers. Newhouser's record now is eight victories and four defeats. Only Cleveland's Bob Lemon, with nine victories, has won more games.

A near-capacity crowd of 14,480 saw the Tiger outfield provide Newhouser with all the backing he needed. Left fielder Dick Wakefield continued his terrific hitting since his return to the regular line-up by belting his eighth home run of the season. Right fielder Pat Mullin smashed his ninth home run in the same eighth inning. Centrefielder Hoot Evers batted in the other two runs with a pair of singles. Both homers came off loser Joe Coleman, who had beaten the Tigers three straight.

The Detroit victory narrowed the three-place New York Yankees' lead to two games. The Yankees were beaten by the White Sox 9 to 8 in an 11-inning thriller in Chicago.

McCOSKY INJURED

Barney McCosky, traded by the Tigers to the Athletics back in 1945, apparently escaped severe injury when he crashed into the concrete wall while attempting to catch Wakefield's home-run drive. McCosky was carried off the field on a stretcher in extreme pain. It was believed the left-fielder suffered only a back bruise.

Boston Red Sox handed the Indians a 7 to 3 setback in a night game in Cleveland. The American League leaders, however, retained their three-game bulge over the runner-up A's.

Southpaw Rookie Mel Parnell gained his second victory with a neat seven-hitter in outpitching Lemon. Johnny Sain pitched Boston Braves into undisputed possession of the National League lead by defeating Chicago Cubs in a night game in Boston 6 to 3. Sain allowed six hits in chalking up his seventh victory.

Boston's victory, coupled with Pittsburgh's 2 to 0 triumph over the Giants in New York, enabled the Braves to break their first-place deadlock with the Giants. The Polo Grounds fell into a second-place tie with Pittsburgh.

The fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Phillies 2 to 1 in a night game in Philadelphia. The sixth-place Dodgers nipped

A new shortstop was scheduled to check in with the Victoria Athletics today. Business manager Reg Patterson announced that Russ Walseth left by plane from Pierre, South Dakota, yesterday and should arrive here some time today.

Signed as a free agent by the New York Yankees, Little is known about Walseth except that he comes highly recommended by Lee McPhail, general manager of the Kansas City club in the American Association.

Bays Nipped By Jokers As Rally Falls Short

Roy Woolsey's Jokers held off a determined second-half rally by J.B.A.A. last night to chalk up their fifth win of the season in the Inland Lacrosse League, nipping the Bays, 10 to 9, on the strength of Red McMillan's goal in the final half minute of play.

Ralph Temple of Jokers opened the scoring at the five-minute mark of the first period. Angus Stewart made it 2 to 0 for the winners five minutes later and the half ended with Jokers holding a two-goal margin.

In the second period Bays tied it up in the first three minutes on markers by Jim Pickford and Reid. Jackson Walker then put Jokers again in the lead with a pretty solo effort and McMillan and Stewart punched home goals before the half to put Jokers ahead, 5 to 2, at the intermission.

The fast-passing attack of the Bays began to click as the third quarter got under way and the losers cut the margin to 7 to 5 on goals by Norm Coates, Baldy Cumming and Reid. McMillan and Stewart, who were the mainstays of the Jokers all evening, each counted a singleton in this frame.

OFF ON SHOOTING

Poor shooting in the final 15 minutes cost J.B.A.A. all chance of overtaking the Jokers. Time and time again the bluishirts romped in on goal unopposed only to shoot wide or run into the stellar netminding of Hetherington.

With only minutes to play Bays moved to within one goal of the Jokers at 9 to 8 on markers by Green, O'Connell and Coates but Red McMillan rammed home the

NEWS from the NATIONAL

SUBJECT . . . NEW FORD FORD TRUCKS FARM IMPLEMENTS POWER MOWERS

The New Ford . . . of course it's in everyone's mind and you're on tenterhooks to see it . . . June 18 should be the day . . . but the floods, you've heard of them, have made our showing a washout for that date . . . hold everything though, we HOPE it will be next week, we'll let you know.

In the meantime let's talk about Ford trucks . . . here are two wonderful used values. A 1940 2-ton 17-inch W.B. with dual rear wheels for $895. A 1945 3-ton 17-inch W.B. with dual rear wheels, $1,495. Also a 1937 Ford Pick-up at only $695. And for immediate delivery a 1948 3-ton 158-inch W.B. chassis with cab with 8.25x20 ten-ply tires all round, $2,444. All subject to prior sale before the 3% tax comes in.

In farm implements we stress the 5-foot side mowers for Ford tractors at $315.32, and other Ford implements, including a 16-foot lift-type disc Harrow, all for Ford tractor owners.

and now about Power Mowers

IT IS confusing with all these amazing claims made by newcomers in the field, or should we say "on the lawn." In the "ATCO" we present the power mower of them all . . . a precision-built piece of equipment that outdoes everything on the market, REGARDLESS of price. . . That's why ATCO sales are higher than all others combined. A 17-inch model at $295; 20-inch models are slightly more.

Gridiron Rhubarb Threatens Over New Rule On Imports

WINNIPEG (CP)—The 1940 east-west football rules controversy is being recalled as a result of this week's announcement from Ottawa (not Toronto) by the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union that its teams can use more United States imports than permitted under Canadian Rugby Union rules.

The Big Four increased its import quotas to six Americans for all teams but Montreal Alouettes, previously given permission to field seven in league play. Under C.R.U. rules, however, the league's champion must conform to a maximum of five imports when it enters eastern Canada and Dominion playoffs.

Western football fans, long-used to being pushed around by the east in rules controversies, are angered at the manner in which the Big Four stole their thunder. They say the east, which has consistently bucked western attempts to "Americanize" football in Canada, made the move purely from selfish motives and expects to get away with it because that is the way they now want the rules to read.

The east-west blowoff came in 1940 when the Canadian Rugby Union ruled Winnipeg Blue Bombers, defending Grey Cup winners, ineligible for the Grey Cup final. The western team was barred because it had failed to observe C.R.U. rules throughout the season.

Most outspoken of the Big Four was Tom Brook, president of Calgary Stampede.

PICK ON WEST

Brook said: "It's high time something was done about the football set-up in Canada. What burns me up is that the east changes things to suit themselves and does just about as they please with the rules and at the same time does everything possible to restrict the west.

"However, there is one thing I'd really like to know; does the east think they're going to use all these American imports in the Grey Cup final?"

Art Chipman, president of Blue Bombers, and Clair Warner, president of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, were less heated in their remarks. Warner merely said it was "interesting" but would not affect the western loop. He pointed out that so long as the Grey Cup is played under C.R.U. rules only five imports may be used in that game at least.

Chipman said Bombers will certainly protest the Big Four decision to the C.R.U.

Young Ft. William Catcher Signed By St. Louis Cards

WINNIPEG (CP)—St. Louis Cardinals of the National Baseball League today announced they have signed 21-year-old Almer C. McKerie of Fort William.

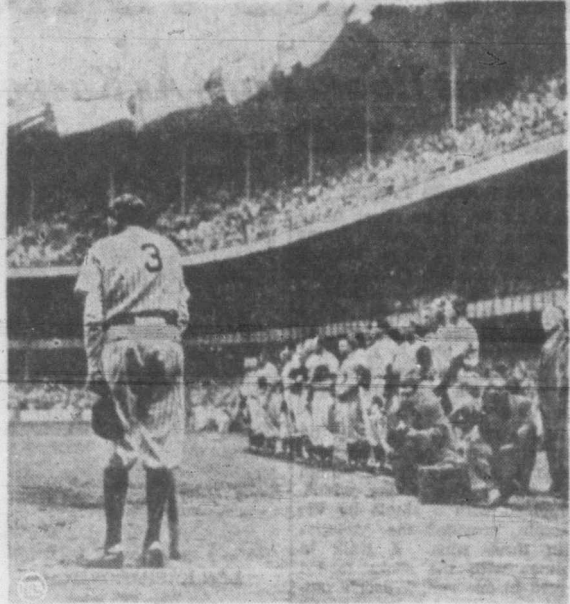

McKerie, a six-foot catcher, was signed by George Sisler Jr., who is in charge of the Cards' three-day baseball try-out school here. He inked a contract with the class D Johnson City team in the Appalachian League and will be advised later when to report.

Sisler said the Cards were very happy over their school—the first to be held in Canada by a major league club—and probably would be back next year. He said he had not really expected to sign anyone this year but that McKerie was a "very excellent" prospect.

Babe Ruth, wearing the familiar uniform and number which are part of baseball's Hall of Fame, stands in New York's Yankee Stadium, at ceremonies marking the 25th anniversary of the stadium's opening. Louis Still Vulnerable To Straight Right Hand Blows

POMPTON LAKES, N.J. (AP)—For a man who says he "expects to win quick," heavyweight champion Joe Louis still is shockingly easy to hit with a straight right hand.

This think in the Brown Bomber's armor was evident today as he went four rounds with aspartate sparmanes in preparation for his title defence against Jersey Joe Walcott at Yankee Stadium a week from tonight.

Dick Hagan, an ex-Golden Glove heavyweight champ from Chicago, scored consistently with a right shot to the head before Tiger Roy Taylor, a 180-pounder from New York, put on a cagy imitation of Walcott. Promoter Mike Jacobs was an interested spectator.

Louis underwent a preliminary physical examination today by Dr. Vincent Nardiello, the New York commission physician. He was pronounced "much improved" over his condition before the first Walcott fight last December.

In an interview before the workout, Louis again blamed his poor December fight on drying out to take off weight. He assured some 40 reporters that he would not repeat the error. Before the drill he said he weighed 215, a weight he hopes to hold until ring time.

WALCOTT LOOKS SHARP

GRENLOCH, N.J. (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott boxed four brisk rounds today, concentrating on throwing punches to the head, as he sharpened up for his world championship fight June 23 against Joe Louis.

Although obviously not working at top speed, Walcott moved effortlessly around the ring, threw hard blows when he felt like it, and at all times was master of the situation.

Walcott's emphasis on lefts to the head indicated his reliance on this weapon against the champion. If Louis has a vulnerable spot, it is his head.

Budge, Pails In Quarterfinals Of Pro Tennis Play

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Dinny Pails, former Australian Davis Cup star, and Donald Budge, veteran former court king from Hollywood, Calif., gained the quarterfinals Tuesday in the United States professional tennis championships.

Pails, No. 1 in the foreign seeded list, eliminated Wayne Sabin of Bretton Woods, N.H., seventh seeded, in the feature match of the day, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

Budge, runner-up to champion Bobby Riggs the last two years and No. 3 in the rankings, easily conquered Jerry Adler of White Plains, N.Y., 6-0, 6-0, 6-1.

Pails and Budge joined three other performers in the quarterfinals. Favored Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., and Pancho Segura of Ecuador had advanced previously.

Bob Crues Clouts 31 Homers In 52 Games

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Bob Crues, whose arm went bad at the threshold of a brilliant career, switched to the outfield and today is hot on the trail of the all-time home run record for professional baseball.

The big Amarillo Gold Sox right fielder, property of Boston's Red Sox, has slammed 31 over the fence in 52 games and if he maintains his present rate will have more than 80 when the 140-game West Texas-New Mexico League season ends.

The all-time record is 69, set by Joe Hauser of Minneapolis of the American Association in 1933.

Last season Crues belted 52 four-baggers.

Veteran Dubois Points For Olympic Team Berth

WINNIPEG (CP)—Theophile Alfred Dubois is determined that no war will stop him from competing in the Olympic Games.

The 37-year-old Belgian-born Canadian sculler qualified in 1939 for the 1940 Olympics, but then came the Second World War—and the Olympics were off.

Sunday the Winnipegger leaves for St. Catharines, Ont., to seek a berth on this year's Olympic team and this time he's hopeful no war will interfere.

While participation in the Olympics is the chief ambition of Dubois, known to his friends as Theo, he's disappointed that he won't have a chance to beat Joe Burk of Philadelphia.

Three times in 1939 and 1940 the two scullers met and on each occasion the American ended in front. Since then he retired from the strenuous sport. Dubois, however, has the consolation of knowing that with each consecutive meeting he cut the distance between him and Burk's shell.

Only half a length separated them in the final meeting.

OUT OF RETIREMENT

During the war years the well-built Winnipegger followed Burk into retirement, but last year the lure of competition proved too strong and Dubois came back to beat John B. Kelley Jr., in the U.S. singles event at Detroit. Two weeks earlier Kelley had won the famed Diamond Sculls.

"Actually," said Theo, "that U.S. victory didn't look too good for me. Kelley went into the water when he stroked too deep, his clubmate, Joe McIntyre, fell off pace when he almost hit Kelley and Joe Angyar Jr., collapsed at the finish."

His triumph over Kelley, however, wasn't the first time he's swept competition in North America. In 1941 he was awarded the Lou E. Marsh trophy for outstanding achievement among Canadian athletes after taking both Canadian and United States singles' titles.

Soriano Hurls Seals To Easy Win Over Seattle

First-place San Francisco and runner-up Los Angeles had a couple of lads named Dewey to thank today for their latest Coast League victories.

Dewey Soriano's sturdy relief hurling helped the league-leading Seals to a 13 to 6 win over Seattle last night and Dewey Adkins spun a two-hitter as Los Angeles nipped Portland, 1 to 0.

Seattle enjoyed a short-lived three-run lead when Earl Rapp unlimbered a homer with two aboard in the first inning. However, the Seals came back in their half of the inning to collect seven runs on six hits. A three-run homer by Ray Orteig, a triple by Dino Restelli and a double by Will Leonard featured the assault.

Soriano relieved starter Bob Joyce in the fourth after Seattle had scored twice and loaded the bags with none out. He checked the uprising by forcing Neil Sheridan to hit into a double play and then fanned Rapp.

HOME RUN WINS

Cliff Anderson's 380-foot ninth-inning homer was the telling blow in the Los Angeles win over Portland. It broke up a mound duel between Portland's Jim Tote and Adkins of the Angels.

The latter yielded only a single in the fifth and a triple in the seventh, both by Harvey Storey. Tote gave up seven hits in losing his first game after four straight wins.

Vince Shupe belted a grand-slam homer in the eighth inning to pace a six-man spurge as San Diego downed Oakland, 10 to 6.

The league's home run leader, Jack Graham, rapped his 32nd round-tripper of the season for the Padres in the seventh. Maurice Van Robays and Nick Etten homered for Oakland.

Hollywood overcame a 9 to 3 deficit in whipping Sacramento 15 to 11. The Stars exploded for seven runs in the seventh inning for the win.

Health Society Refused License To Carry On Business In Province

First refusal by the government to grant a license to a health and accident society to carry on business under the Insurance Act was announced today by Stanley W. Taylor, superintendent of insurance.

The society in question is the North Pacific Health and Accident Association, which has head offices at Vancouver, Mr. Taylor said.

At the same time he announced the affairs of three other societies are now under inspection by accountants and decisions will be made in the near future in regard to them.

The North Pacific Health and Accident Association will not be granted a license to operate until it can prove financial solvency, the insurance superintendent stated.

The action was taken as the result of a recent investigation of the society's finances by John C. Oswald, chartered accountant.

Mr. Oswald reported that on Dec. 31 the association was short in quick assets by $70,904 and was insolvent.

Since then it has attempted to cut down overhead, reduce benefits and increase its rates in order to put itself on a better footing. But its membership dropped from 11,214 in December to 8,193, at April 30.

Of the three other societies under investigation, Mr. Taylor said it is not the intention of his department to license any of them, if their financial statements show insolvency.

SIX LICENSES ISSUED

He reported that licenses under the Insurance Act have been issued to six benefit groups including Associated Hospital Services of B.C. (Blue-Cross); B.C. Mutual Benefit Association; Family Assurance Society; Medical Services Association; Summer Mutual Benefit Association; Telephone Employees' Mutual Services Association of B.C.

In issuing these licenses, Mr. Taylor said the department does not guarantee that the schemes are actually sound. But, after investigation, it is believed they are being operated properly for the benefit of members, and are solvent.

Action against the North Pacific Health and Accident Association is the latest in a series of government actions dealing with societies of this kind. Earlier in the year six associations were suspended and a seventh voluntarily stopped operation because of insolvency.

Tanker Crewmen Get Increases

D. Proud, Victoria representative of the Seafarers' International Union of North America (A.F.L.) today announced the union had signed a contract with Westard Shipping Ltd. providing for pay increases ranging from $30 to $35 per month for unlicensed personnel aboard the coastal tanker Britamerica.

The new contract, which provides for pay increases dated from last Dec. 1, was described by Mr. Proud as a milestone in collective bargaining agreements for coastal tankers.

Westard Shipping Ltd. is west coast agents for the British American Oil Co. Ltd.

Under the new contract, deck crews will receive $150 a month, compared with $120 previously, while below deck crews will receive $155 compared with $120 previously. Pay for messmen has been set at $140, compared with $110 previously, while pay for chief cook is $200, compared with $165 previously.

The rate for overtime pay is increased from 50c an hour to 85 cents.

Formerly represented by the Canadian Seamen's Union, the crews voted last August to have the S.I.U. serve as their representatives.

Signing the contract for the union were Mr. Proud of Dave Joyce, secretary-treasurer of the S.I.U.

Students Return East, Unable To Find Jobs Here

Disappointed university students who have traveled 2,000 miles across Canada to work in British Columbia during the summer months are returning to eastern Canada because of the lack of employment, it was learned today.

Some of the students had hitchhiked across the Dominion in the hope of finding employment. They even found lumber camps had no openings for them.

One University of Toronto student seeking post-graduate training in electrical engineering, reported there wasn't an opening for him on the mainland or Vancouver Island.

"I only need 500 hours of training to complete my course," said the student, whose parents reside in Victoria. "I can't find anything here so I guess I'll have to return east."

"We have been very unsuccessful with university students, but we have had some success with graduates," said C. A. Mudge, of the National Employment office.

Mr. Mudge said the office had managed to find employment for the majority of married students.

Whale Meat Goes On Sale In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver's meat shortage is taking on the new look and wearing a new, low price tag.

Fresh, juicy steaks, dark red and succulent, are going on sale Thursday at prices down around the 25-cents-a-pound mark.

The reason—freshly-caught whales from British Columbia's low northern waters.

Long a preferred item on menus of fastidious Briton and Norwegian trenchermen, the meat of the whale, which is a mammal and not a fish, will retail at a fraction of the price of grain-fed steers. Kitchen tests show the steaks take more cooking than their beef counterparts, but the eating is reported "good."

Level Of Columbia Steadily Falling; Crews Cleaning Up

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Pacific Northwest flood toll stood at 44 known victims today as crests of the Columbia and Fraser rivers spilled harmlessly into the Pacific.

The exact toll of the flood awaits receding of the water to below flood stage in the lower valley.

The Red Cross holds the names of 30 men and women on its list of missing since the flooding of Vancouver.

Army engineers report that, although weakened levees could still collapse, the flood crisis in the heavily populated lower Columbia Valley is passing rapidly.

Patrols continue on the dikes guarding farm-lands and industrial and residential areas, but the sandbag crews have eased off on their labors.

The river was expected to drop six inches today—down more than a foot from the 30.2-foot crest of early Monday at Vancouver, Wash. Flood stage is 15 feet.

Flood-crippled industries are beginning to call back their crews for clean-up prior to returning to production. United States agencies and Congress already have started relief measures and rebuilding plans.

Health authorities have issued warnings again to thousands of evacuees to stay out of their homes and farm houses until sanitary measures have been taken. Anti-typhoid programs are being accelerated in all areas and special immunization crews sent into the field.

Racing At Willows Held Sept. 11 To 27

Horse racing dates at British Columbia tracks were approved in an order-in-council released at the Parliament Buildings today.

The Colwood Park Association was granted permission to run races at the Willows track from Sept. 11 to 27, exclusive of Sundays.

Other dates are: Aug. 4 to 19 by the Goodwood Park Ltd., operator of the Colwood race track, at Hastings Park, Vancouver; Aug. 21 to Sept. 6 by the Ascot Jockey Club at Hastings Park, Vancouver.

Victoria Municipal Chapter, I.O.G.E., sent two cheques to the City Hall for the B.C. Flood Emergency Relief Fund. The sum of $1,610 was raised by a tag day and the sum of $543 donated by nine branches of the I.O.G.E.

2 New Scholarships For Students At Victoria College

Two new scholarships of $100 each will be awarded Victoria College students when this year's prize list is made available within a week.

This was announced today by Professor Robert T. Wallace, chairman of the college's scholarship committee, who said the College Council has accepted with deep appreciation the new scholarships.

One is being awarded by the Victoria Lions Club and the other by the Victoria Chapter 16 of the Order of the Ahepa of the Order of the Ahepa of the Anglo-Hellenic Educational Progressive Association.

FOR GREEK STUDENT

The latter organization's scholarship will go to the student, preferably in second year, at the college, who shows the greatest promise in the study of Greek, and who continues studies.

The Lions Club scholarship will go to the first-year student with the highest standing in chemistry 100 and biology 100 who continues similar studies in second year at the local institution.

The Victoria Chapter of the Order of the Ahepa is a comparatively new organization founded in January, 1942. Chapters have been founded in principal cities throughout the United States and Canada. Parent chapter was founded at Atlanta, Georgia, in 1926, and the first Canadian chapter was formed in London, Ont. There is a chapter of the order at Vancouver.

Officers of the local chapter include Constantine Karas, president; Leon Metro, secretary; James Gias, vice-president, and J. L. Harris, treasurer.

Seek To Use New Type Fibre Pipe

Incorporation in the sanitary by-laws of the city of permission to use No-Co-Rode Fibre pipe was asked in a letter received at City Hall today from P. G. Williams, manager of Crane Limited, Victoria.

The pipe is recommended as a sewer line to run from 3 to 5 feet outside foundation wall to main sewer or septic tank, Mr. Williams wrote.

"No-Co-Rode Root-Proof Pipe is so formed as to develop a homogeneous structure (not laminated) of asbestos and cellulose fibres oriented in three planes making the structure of the pipe uniform throughout," he wrote.

"Under all sorts of conditions, in all kinds of installations, No-Co-Rode Root-Proof fibre pipe, has established authentic records of exceptional service without maintenance or replacement."

Jack V. Alexander pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving on Wharf Street on June 5 when he appeared in city police court this morning. He was fined $40 and his license was suspended for one month by Magistrate H. C. Hall. Evidence was he hit a parked car doing about $300 damage to it.

Motion To Exclude Nuisance Claim In Airpark Injunction Rejected

A motion to exclude the nuisance claim in an injunction which would restrain the building of an airpark at Gordon Head, was rejected by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court today.

The motion involved a claim by Dr. Tchaperoff, who is seeking the injunction, that the building of an airpark constituted a nuisance to himself and endangered as well his life and property.

W. H. M. Haldane, defence counsel for the Memorial Airpark Association, supported by A. J. Patton, city solicitor, submitted the motion. He argued that Dr. Tchaperoff at the examination for discovery had testified that his sole objection to the construction of an airpark was because it was contrary to the Saanich zoning by-law.

In view of Dr. Tchaperoff's statement, the counsel felt that the court should only hear evidence with regard to the Saanich by-law, which the plaintiff claimed prohibited the construction of an airpark.

Mr. Justice Macfarlane felt that the defence counsel had placed the wrong interpretation on Dr. Tchaperoff's statement. He added that the court would be obliged to hear evidence regarding the nuisance claim.

Mr. Haldane then asked for an adjournment until September. His motion was opposed by John C. McIntosh, counsel for Dr. Tchaperoff, on grounds that he was prepared to continue with the case.

At the request of Counsel A. J. Patton, the court was adjourned until this afternoon. The defence counsel asked for the adjournment for the purpose of obtaining instructions from the city.

Cost of the special session of the Legislature, starting July 7, for B.C. flood relief and rehabilitation is not expected to exceed $25,000 or $30,000, it was learned today.

Regular sittings cost nearly $200,000.

Members attending the session will be permitted only ordinary railway fare for traveling expenses. The usual allowance is 25 cents per mile from their homes to Victoria and return.

Members living in the north and boundary districts collect substantial amounts for traveling, but this time it is understood the allowance will be limited to approximately $150 each.

For the last special session of the Legislature in 1940, members were paid $200 for the three days the House sat.

Prices Committee Meets In Camera; Considers Report

OTTAWA (CP)—The Prices Committee today held one of its most important meetings.

Its members met in a full executive session—closed to the public—to consider the questions of the committee's report to Parliament and its own life. The meeting was originally scheduled for last week-end, but was canceled because too many members had conflicting engagements.

There has been in existence a tentative report, prepared mainly by government economists under the direction of chairman Paul Martin. It would require approval from the committee before it could be presented to Commons.

At the same time, for more than a month there have been hints here that the government has studied the evidence of the committee and hopes to make some practical use of it in an attack on the cost of living.

Much of the evidence taken by the committee has been condensed and a shortened version has been submitted to members of the government. Study of this version, intended to emphasize some of the economic forces at work in the country, has been under way for several weeks.

Finance Minister Abbott had ruled out any possibility that action might take the form of reimposition of general price controls and reliable sources indicate the whole question is still in the discussion stage.

The most reliable indication of the government's intentions was one source's prediction that some action "might be taken after Parliament rises."

NARWHAL HAS LONG TUSK WHICH JUTS FROM JAW

In stories of the past, an animal called "the unicorn" was mentioned from time to time. This beast was supposed to look like a horse and to have a single horn jutting out from the middle of its forehead. The horn was said to be about two feet long.

No animal like that has been known, but the myth may have come from a report of the one-horned rhinoceros. India is the home of the one-horned rhinoceros, which has a horn about one foot long.

The Arctic Ocean is the home of an animal with what looks like a single horn. This is the narwhal, which sometimes is called the "sea unicorn."

On closer study we find that the long, pointed object is a tusk rather than a horn. It grows out of the upper jaw of the male narwhal.

Narwhals are among the small members of the whale family. Without counting the tusk, the length of a full-grown male is about 12 feet. The tusk may be anywhere from three to eight feet in length.

Young narwhals have several teeth, but only two of them last into adult life. One of those two (almost always the left tooth, near the centre of the upper jaw) starts growing longer and longer as the years go by, in the case of the male. The female fails to grow a tusk.

We may ask, "What good is the tusk of a narwhal?" Most likely its chief purpose is for use in fighting. It can serve as a dangerous weapon in a battle against some other animal of the sea.

The tusk may be helpful in keeping the ice open in some parts of the Arctic Ocean—say in a bay which is freezing over. It is strong enough to break a layer of thin ice.

Narwhals are air-breathing animals. Groups of them have been seen crowding together in an open space in the midst of ice. It would seem that they know that death will come to them unless they keep the water in the open space from freezing.

The tusks of narwhals are ivory, and have a high value on the market. The flesh is eaten by Eskimos. There is a great deal of fat in the body, and a large narwhal may provide half a ton of oil.

In rare cases a narwhal has two tusks instead of one. Both of these are of a "twisted" shape.

Rank Planning Big Movie Film Merger

LONDON (Reuters) — A £20,000,000 ($80,000,000) motion picture merger affecting 564 theatres is planned by Britain's film king, J. Arthur Rank.

The new organization, known as Circuits Management Association, will combine the vast resources of Odeon Theatres Ltd. and the Gaumont British Picture Corporation under the chairmanship of Rank, who is chairman of both companies.

The C.M.A. will also operate a pooling arrangement for the benefit of 20 of the principal British theatre-owning companies, which between them now run 519 theatres.

Announcing this at a press conference here, Rank explained, the C.M.A. would have a single managerial and accountancy staff formed by concentrating the departments now engaged on this work in the two original groups.

St. Joseph's Awaits Word On Funds For Cancer Research

Word is still being awaited by St. Joseph's Hospital, on its May 12 application to the British Columbia Cancer Foundation, for financial assistance to continue research on a cancer treatment developed by Dr. Ivan C. C. Tehaperoff.

St. Joseph's Hospital Cancer Clinic board of trustees met Tuesday afternoon and were told the foundation had replied on May 20, saying that the request would be presented to the board for consideration.

A statement from the meeting said: "As no further word has yet been received from Vancouver, progress in development has necessarily been retarded until the desired assistance is assured."

John Hart, former premier, who is president of the board of trustees, presided at the meeting. Most Rev. James M. Hill, Bishop of Victoria, is honorary president.

Other members are Sister Rose Mary, Superior of the hospital, vice-president; J. N. Taylor, secretary; Joseph McKenna, legal adviser; Very Rev. G. O. Penfold, J. H. L. Gillis, O. Leigh Spencer, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Mrs. David Spencer, J. Frater Taylor, Dr.

To Give Prizes For Home Playgrounds

The Greater Victoria Recreational Council's committee on home playgrounds will give $10 as first prize for the best and most completely equipped home playground in Greater Victoria, with $5 prizes to be distributed to winners in each municipality.

Entries must be in the hands of the director of the Recreational Council by July 1, and judging will follow within two weeks.

The sponsors emphasize that large gardens and expensive equipment are not necessary. Ingenious and usable equipment will rate high in the contest, as even the simplest and least expensive are often most used by children, the committee stated.

The aim of the contest is to keep children occupied and off dangerous streets.

Native Chief In British Colony Has 110 Wives

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—Britain says a complaint to the United Nations about the Fon having 600 wives is somewhat exaggerated. Actually he has only 110.

The Fon is the chief of the Bikom Tribe in the British Cameroons. He first came into the spotlight last December when a London Catholic organization said he had 600 wives and took another woman he found a young girl to his liking.

The Fon has only 110 wives, the British Government said in a reply to the complaint which was laid before the U.N. Trusteeship Council by St. Joan's Social and Political Alliance.

Britain denied that the Fon had the right to take by force any girl in the tribe. Actually, the report said, he has the right to claim only the first-born daughters and all female twins in certain families.

Britain admitted the state of affairs in Bikom "is shocking to Christian sentiment," but added "these practices are based on the strongest superstitious belief and

ATLAS—Elizabeth Scott in "I Walk Alone."

CAPITOL—Scudda-Hoo, Scudda-Hay, starring June Haver and Lon McCallister.

DOMINION—"Dragonwyck," starring Gene Tierney.

OAK BAY—"Foxes of Harrow," with Rex Harrison.

ODEON—Glenn Ford and Evelyn Keyes in "The Mating of Millie."

PLAZA—"Dark Command," starring Walter Pidgeon.

RIO—"The Stork Club," with Betty Hutton.

ROYAL—Robert Young and Maureen O'Hara in "Sitting Pretty."

YORK INTERNATIONAL—Ray Milland and Teresa Wright in "The Imperfect Lady."

GROMYKO DOES HIMSELF WELL IN THE U.S.A.—Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia's deputy foreign minister, and his family will occupy this 25-room mansion on the Richard Reynolds Sr. estate at Glen Cove, N.Y., for the summer. Situated on Long Island's swanky "Gold Coast," the house stands amid five acres of grounds which include a private bathing beach on Long Island Sound. Relieved as chief Soviet delegate to the U.N. Gromyko will return to Russia next fall.

YORK THEATRE

Anthony Quinn, featured in Paramount's "The Imperfect Lady," now at the York Theatre with Ray Milland and Teresa Wright co-starred, has the heritages of both the new world and ancient civilization in his veins. The actor, who plays the role of a Spanish pianist in the romantic drama of Victorian England, is the son of an Irish adventurer and a Mexican beauty whose family dated back to the days of Montezuma, last Aztec emperor.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Twentieth Century-Fox studio officials may soon have to begin worrying how they're going to keep one of their most promising young stars down on a farm. He's Lon McCallister, currently starred with June Haver in the Technicolor production of "Scudda-Hoo! Scudda-Hay!" which is at the Capitol Theatre. The screen parts Lon has played have qualified him as an expert on every kind of farm chore from milking a cow to hitching up a hand plow.

ATLAS THEATRE

Barry Fitzgerald tries a bar of singing in his new Paramount picture, "The Stork Club," which is now at the Atlas Theatre, with Betty Hutton in the starring role. The Academy award holder, who took up acting at the age of 42, believes it's never too late to learn.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Richard Haydn, who played Vanessa Brown's father in "The Late George Apley," and is currently playing her fiancé in Twentieth Century-Fox's "The Foxes of Harrow," currently at the Oak Bay Theatre, still has a complaint about his current role in the film which stars Rex Harrison and Maureen O'Hara. While he jokes about playing Vanessa's son in a future picture, Haydn insists they've still done him wrong in "The Foxes of Harrow."

DOMINION THEATRE

Voted "Hollywood's Best-Dressed Actress," Gene Tierney currently starred in 20th Century-Fox's new hit, "Dragonwyck," now at the Dominion Theatre, credits her fashion success to a bit of advice tendered by her husband, Count Oleg Cassini. A former designer, he points out: "A perfectly dressed woman is one who looks beautiful though you never quite remember what she wears."

ODEON THEATRE

"The Mating of Millie," Columbia's hilarious romantic comedy starring Glenn Ford and Evelyn Keyes is currently showing at the Odeon Theatre. Ron Randall and Willard Parker are seen in the chief supporting roles. The Casey Robinson production, written by Louella MacFarlane and St. Clair McKelway, was directed by Henry Levin.

PLAZA THEATRES

"Dark Command," brought back by popular request, is now at Plaza Theatre. Dynamic starring roles are featuring Walter Pidgeon, John Wayne and Claire Trevor.

Christie Trains Canada's Tennis Aces At Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—Coach Leo Christie said today he will hold daily drills for five Canadian Davis Cup tennis players who will work out here for the North American zone matches starting next month.

Christie will hold the drills for Walt Stohlberg, Jim Skelton, Henri Rochon and Brendan and Jim Macken until Canada's first-round match with Mexico in Montreal July 7 to 9.

The Canadians picked the Baltimore Country Club where Leo Christie is pro to train in order to get used to grass courts.

Rochon and Brendan Macken were members of last year's Dominion squad. Rochon is the Ontario and Quebec singles champion.

Brendan Macken was recently graduated from William and Mary College where brother Jim has finished one year. Brendan lost only one of 45 intercollegiate matches while Jim has won 20 out of 25.

Stohlberg is the Vancouver city champion while Skelton holds the British Columbia singles crown. They teamed to win the provincial doubles title.

Liverpool Eleven In Convincing Win Over Toronto Ulster

TORONTO (CP)—The famed Liverpool touring soccer team Sunday night downed Toronto's Ulster United, 5 to 1, before more than 17,000 fans here, stretching their international exhibition winning streak to eight straight.

Liverpudlians played their close style, taking advantage of offensive manoeuvring. Ulster's wide-open tactics failed to give manager George Hayes' squad their first defeat during their current tour.

Liverpool's inside right, Jack Balmer, copped two counters, while linemen William Fagan, Albert Stubbins and Bill Liddell tallied one each. Right half Paul Hrie notched Toronto's single goal on a penalty kick.

Cy Davies and Bill Davidson played well in Ulster's defence area. Davies, hurt in a skirmish around the Ulster goalmouth, was replaced by Bill Kennedy. Substitutes are allowed only in case of injury.

Two other Toronto men were knocked out early in the second half in front of Liverpool's goal, but first aid allowed them to resume. Goalkeeper Larry Gage was sensational in the Toronto cage, diving, sprawling and blocking shots from all angles. Liverpool next move to Ebbsfield, Brooklyn, where they encounter a top Swedish team, Djurgarden, June 18.

Ask Government Aid To Reduce Down Payments On Homes

CALGARY (CP) — Provincial government participation in a scheme to reduce down payments on newly-constructed homes for low income groups will be urged by the Western Canada House Builders' Association.

More than 40 delegates representing the three prairie provinces at a builders' conference here, Tuesday night unanimously passed a resolution asking provincial aid for such a scheme.

The delegates went to Banff for the final session today. Delegates suggested that the Ontario home financing system whereby the government takes a second mortgage on new dwellings to reduce down payments might be used as a model by other provinces.

A second resolution asked for specific assistance from the governments of Alberta and Saskatchewan in financing construction this summer of 125 homes in Edmonton, 200 in Calgary and 300 in Regina.

"Families with children are living in almost unbelievable conditions," said George Prudham of Edmonton, president of the Canadian House Builders' Association. "We consider this a challenge that must be met just as quickly as possible."

The houses planned for three cities would be two-bedroom structures costing in the neighborhood of $7,000 apiece. They will be for sale, not rent. The association is trying to arrange with the governments of the two provinces to reduce the down payments of prospective owners to around $700. Under the most lenient of present federal housing terms, a down payment of about $1,400 would be required to purchase such a house.

The plan will not interfere with wartime housing projects, which provide low rental homes for families that cannot afford even a modest down payment.

B.C. DELEGATES ABSENT

Taking part in Tuesday's discussions were Manitoba Labor Minister C. Rhodes Smith; Saskatchewan Deputy Reconstruction Minister E. E. Elsenhauer, and Alberta Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke. The British Columbia government was not represented due to flood conditions in that province.

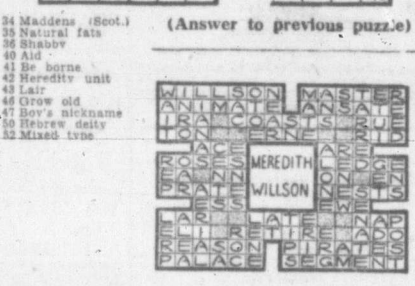

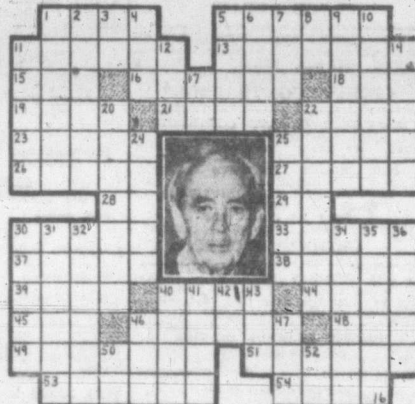

The three government representatives each expressed endorsement of the general principles of the Ontario plan, which was outlined by Ontario Planning Minister Dana Porter.

Mr. Smith warned, however, that the scheme would not solve the problem for the lowest income group. An income of $200 to $225 a month was required to pay the $45 to $50 a month usually required as payments on a house. Many families earned far less than that.

Mr. Hooke promised his government would "carefully consider any proposition . . . we don't like to see governments in house building or house renting. Some of the wartime houses are no credit to any government. They look like some of our closed towns and mining camps." Outlining the Ontario plan, Mr. Porter said the Ontario government had decided it could help the housing shortage best by encouraging private builders. Actual government construction usually was slower, more extravagant and less satisfactory.

Kerry DrakeOccupation Heroine Buried in Scotland

LANARK, Scotland (AP)—

The body of Mrs. Sybil Kathigasu, the "Nurse Edith Cavell of Malaya," was buried here Tuesday.

The frail little heroine of Malaya occupation died last Saturday. She had undergone 10 operations and long treatment for injuries suffered at the hands of Japanese torturers.

Mrs. Kathigasu, who refused to talk even though the Japs were torturing her six-year-old daughter, Dawn, before her eyes, was brought to Britain in 1945. She was awarded the George Medal for her work with the Malayan underground, then given the best treatment British hospitals could offer.

Her last work was to finish a book, "Sabi," a chronicle of the Japanese terror, bearing her underground code name.

The Colonial Office said she directed that proceeds of its sale should be used to build a Roman Catholic church at Ipoh, home of her husband and three daughters.

To Flood Relief—At the June meeting of Robert Burns McKicking Chapter, I.O.E., a sum of $50 was voted to the Flood Relief Fund. Arrangements were also made for members to donate several dozen pair of heavy socks for dike workers. In the absence of the regent, the chair was taken by Miss Beth Little.
